Germany Rolling the Stone
Artificial Rubber
One Language Is Pleaty
No Socialism Needed

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1927, by Star Company.

ANCIENTS IMAGINED unfortunate Sisyphus, rolling his stone up hill, only to have it roll back, then pushing it up again.

Germany is the 1927 Sisyphus, her heavy reparations bill in the stone millions paid out and hundreds of millions to be paid.

If the "plan" goes on, Germany must pay in the year 1927-28, 1,750,000,000 gold marks, or $437,000,000 gold, and each year thereafter $625,000,000 in gold.

The world asks "can the thing be done and if it can, will Germany do it, or find a way out, and what could the Allies, especially this nation, do about it if Germany should refuse the gigantic annual tribute?"

Germany, probably, COULD pay. She saves the cost of a huge army and navy, permitted no longer. And hundreds of thousands that would be idle soldiers, living on workers, are now at work, helping Germany to undersell the rest of the world.

And Germany is ruled now by the brains of Germany, no longer by the decaying remainder of the ancient Hohenzollern money lender family.

Of one thing be sure. Adversity is a good school. Germany has been through it and has graduated. Speculators now s.. ng German industrial and bank stocks s rt will rue it.

Recently this column, commenting on the alleged plan of Firestone and Ford to grow their own rubber, suggested that artificial rubber might come before the Ford-Firestone trees begin turning out tires.

Today Germany announces synthetic rubber, alleged to be made for less than natural rubber.

If Germans work at that as they did at aniline dyes, rubber plantations may go to join the extinct cochineal industry. And synthetic rubber may pay one third of Germany's reparations.

Official Instructions by Calles Himself Directed Treasury Pay $50,000 to Purchase Arms and Munitions for Rebels in Central American State

By JOHN PAGE

Copyright, 1927, by the Washington Herald.

Washington, Nov. 14—President Coolidge on Jan. 11, 1927, in a message or statement explained very clearly and convincingly the causes which compelled the United States to intervene in the political complications which had arisen in Nicaragua.

He showed that the Treaty which the United States had with Nicaragua for the construction of an interoceanic canal involved certain obligations on the part of Nicaragua toward the United States and of the United States toward Nicaragua.

He showed that the various nations of Central America had united in a plan to preserve peace and insure political freedom in Nicaragua.

He showed that the government of Mexico had proceeded to foment revolutions in Nicaragua in an effort to depose the rightfully elected President of Nicaragua, and that the United States, having assumed obligations in regard to the Canal, under an agreement made with other Central American nations and to protect the Monroe Doctrine, sent troops to maintain order and sustain the newly and constitutionally elected government at Nicaragua.

It was clear that in the Nicaraguan situation there were American rights to be protected, the rights of foreign nations to be upheld and the obligations to Nicaragua and other Central American nations to be performed, and that intervention was not only justified, but was imperative, if the United States

How Calles Started Anti-United States Revolution in Nicaragua

FOLLOWING are the highlights in today's article, the first of a series to be published by this newspaper, revealing the anti-American activities of the Mexican government.

ORIGINAL documents taken from the secret archives of the Mexican government, and reproduced photographically and textually, show:

THAT PRESIDENT CALLES, seeking to overthrow the Nicaraguan government (because of its friendship for the United States) organized and financed a revolution in Nicaragua, headed by Dr. Juan Bautista Sacasa.

THAT CALLES issued and signed an order on his treasury department on June 2, 1926, directing the payment of $50,000 to Dr. Pedro Jose Zepeda "for the purchase of arms and munitions for the Liberal Army of Nicaragua." Zepeda was Sacasa's representative in Mexico.

THAT one day later Calles had another order calling for the payment of an addital $25,000 to Zepeda, in furtherance of a secret mission confied to him.

THAT CALLES also ordersche payment of money to Dr. Carlos Leon, a Venezuela "Liberal" noted for his anti-American views, and who help organize the Sacasa Liberal insurrection in Nicaragua.

THESE documents demonstrate conclusively the truth of the statements made by President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg on the Mexican-Nicaraguan situation last January, and furnish proof which was not available to our chief executive at that time.

TOMORROW, the Boston Evening American will publish further original documents from the secret archives of the Mexican government, and will explain their significance.

SECRET DOCUMENTS SHOW ANTI-AMERICAN PLOT

was to fulfill its duty, its obligations and contractual commitments.

Nevertheless there was considerable opposition in the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States to the intervention of this country and many of the more visionary statesmen took active sides against their own country in this situation, adding greatly to the difficulties of the Coolidge administration.

On Jan. 13, 1927, Secretary Kellogg issued a statement showing further the extent to which Mexico had fomented revolutions in Nicaragua and alleging a very close relation between the Bolshevism rampant in Russia and the Bolshevist principles, policies and activities of the government of Mexico.

Secretary Kellogg's Statement Was Derided

This perfectly sound statement of Secretary Kellogg was treated with derision by the opponents of the administration, by the peace-at-any-price element of the population, and by the ill-balanced statesmen who think that the United States is always wrong in its disputes with foreign countries.

Unfortunately Secretary Kellogg, while he asserted facts and nothing but facts, had not at that time the complete documentary evidence to establish those facts.

Fortunately the Hearst publications now have the documentary evidence to establish the complete proof of Secretary Kellogg's statement and to sustain all the facts related by President Coolidge in support of the position of the United States government.

This documentary evidence which the American produces, and will continue to publish in consecutive form for some days, was obtained from the secret files of the Mexican government by men in the employ of the Mexican government, but who were nevertheless opposed to the Bolshevist tendency of that government and patriotically concerned lest this Bolshevism in Mexico and its connection with Bolshevism in Russia, would eventually destroy their country and wreck the peace and happiness of their people.

Documents Brought Here by Mexican Officials

The documents in possession of the American were therefore brought to this country by three officials intimately connected with the Mexican government and were delivered to the Hearst publications merely because these officials realized that in this manner they would secure the widest publication of the facts contained in these government files. These documents are not copies. They are the originals in every case and they bear the recognized and attested signatures of the President and the leading representatives of the Mexican government.

There is no question of the authenticity of these documents as records of the government of Mexico.

These documents will be available to the Department of State and to the Congress of the United States of America after they have been presented to the public through the columns of these newspapers.

Publication of these documents will prove positively that the Calles government did support the Sacasa revolution in Nicaragua, that it did supply money and arms to the revolutionists, and that it did do this with the idea of installing a Bolshevik regime in Nicaragua hostile to the interests of the United States.

There is no attempt made to establish a case against the Mexican government. As a matter of fact, the Hearst papers are sympathetic with Mexico, except in situations which come into conflict with the interests of our own people.

These documents will be presented as important news facts. While they are not published to support the policy of President Coolidge, they obviously do support the President's policy and prove the absolute necessity of his vigorous action in Nicaragua if the interests of the people of the United States are to be protected.

Mexican People Themselves Not Hostile to United States

The Hearst papers, while publishing in this series a number of documents of a nature seriously compromising to the Russian government, have no special antagonism toward that government. They have always maintained that Russia has a right to the kind of government it desires, and that the Russian people's right to establish their own government should not be interfered with by other governments, but the same principle applies in regard to the attitude of the Bolshevist government of Russia toward our own government.

The Hearst papers take the stand that we have a right to the kind of government we desire in this country. We have a right to protect the best interests of our own people as we see those interests, and it is seriously objectionable for the governments of other countries to attempt to interfere with the Government of the United States and to prejudice the interests of the people of the United States.

The President's act thus far have been based on but a small part of the amazing information now in the hands of the Hearst papers.

Whatever the attitude of the Mexican Government, it should be understood that the Mexican people are not hostile to the United States. Anti-American editorials are published frequently in Mexican papers but they are written, usually, in response to official pressure and do not accurately reflect public opinion.

Popular sympathy with the policy of the United States Government is far stronger among middle class Mexicans than Americans realize, and this sympathy sometimes finds expression in curious ways. A somewhat surprising instance occurred during the days immediately following the statement issued by every hospital in the city. In one hospital 100 victims were treated.

MANY DEAD, HUNDREDS HURT IN GAS TANK EXPLOSION

The list of injured was expected to reach between 500 and 600. It was feared the toll of lives would be considerably increased by the death of many of those seriously hurt.

Many of the injured thronged their way to the Presbyterian and Allegheny General Hospitals, and at the later institution so many of the victims walked in that the steps leading to the main door were spattered with blood.

Firemen and police expressed fears that scores of persons, in their homes and in factories of the region, had been trapped when the buildings collapsed.

One big building, the Joseph Horne department store warehouse, located near the tank, was crushed like an eggshell by the blast.

With arrival of the first eleven bodies at the morgue, the regular undertakers were forced to summon outside aid. A number of morticians from private undertaking houses were put to work, while others were held in reserve to handle additional bodies as they were recovered.

CHILDREN ARE VICTIMS.

The tank was located in the Beaver avenue district adjacent to the Manchester bridge, which spans the Alleghany River where it joins the Monongahela to form the Ohio.

Witnesses said that after the first explosion a ball of fire rolled into the air several hundred feet and burst with a deafening roar. Houses caved in, streets were ripped up and telephone and electric wires torn down. Water pipes, buried deep in the streets, were ripped out.

Several blocks away two hundred school children were standing in the school yard, ready to enter the building. Practically every window in the school was shattered and many of the pupils were cut by flying glass.

Flooded streets, strewn with wreckage, hampered the work of police and firemen. Their task was made more hazardous by the dangling electric wires, but finally the current was turned off and they entered the district.

BODIES ARE RECOVERED.

Police reserves roped off an area a mile square and the work of determining just what the devastation was got under way.

Practically every building in the immediate vicinity was wrecked, and windows over a wide area were shattered, including some in down-town department stores and office structures.

The ball of fire that shot into the air after the flash was described as being higher than the adjacent tip of Mount Washington.

The huge tank with its steel framework was ripped asunder, sections of the steel supports being hurled many blocks.

The first injured were picked up from streets adjacent to the scene. They had been struck by flying glass.

The first warning the city had of the disaster was the terrific shock. At first it was believed an earthquake had visited the district.

Firemen said that when they reached the scene they found scores of men, women and children terrified, running about the streets.

ROCKED LIKE QUAKE.

Private automobiles and trucks were commandeered to take injured to hospitals, and shortly every hospital in the city was jammed, and the firemen were forced to set up emergency first aid stations at the scene.

The force with which the big tank exploded was recounted by Government Weather Forecaster W. S. Brotzman, who was seated on the top, 26th floor, of the Oliver building. He said:

"As it given a mighty push, the Oliver Building swayed, something like that caused by an earthquake. We found that the barometer recorded the increased air pressure resulting. The air was so compressed by the violent concussion that its pressure became greater by five-hundredths of an inch."

Pieces of the tank steel supports, some weighing more than 100 pounds, were found a mile from the scene.

A street car, three blocks from the tank when it let go, was wrecked and every passenger aboard was hurt.

TRAPPED IN FACTORIES.

While the exact cause of the explosion was undetermined, it was said that gas company workmen were repairing a section of the tank with a blow torch when the blast occurred.

When advised of the disaster the Red Cross rushed equipment, including cots and blankets, to the district and sent a score of doctors and nurses to north side hospitals to aid the overtaxed staffs.

Begrimed firemen, after working for hours within the radius through which the explosion shot death and destruction, said words would not describe the scene.

Here and there firemen halted to pick up an injured victim. At one point they stumbled upon an infant baby boy. He was rushed to a hospital.

Another little fellow, cut by flying debris, told the firemen he was Jack Smith, aged four years, but he did not know where he lived.

When rescuers reached a point near the tank they found that the large factory building occupied by the Union Paint Company had caved in, trapping all the workers in the plant. Here a number of dead were dug from the debris.

WRECKAGE OF THE CITY.

In the asphalt plant fifteen employes were reported killed or injured. The plant, across the street from the tank, was a wreck.

Pedestrians on downtown streets were cut by glass when the big department store windows were shattered.

The blast occurred just as the police court of the city got under way. Magistrates immediately adjourned court and rushed the police to the scene.

WHOLE FAMILIES HURT.

Coroner W. J. McGregor, for Allegheny County; Fire Chief R. L. Smith, for the city of Pittsburgh, and officials of the Philadelphia Company, of which the Equitable Company is a subsidiary, immediately started investigations into the disaster.

In some instances, where factories did not collapse, all employes were hurt. This was true of the Pittsburgh Iron Bed Company, where the entire personnel of fifty men needed

Blast Knocks Boy in River; Saved by Policeman

Pittsburgh, Nov. 14 (A.P.)—Patrolman Sylvester Steohr was strolling along his beat on a street fronting the Ohio River when the big gas tank blew up. The officer, just a few seconds before, had noticed a small boy playing in the river bank.

The force of the blast knocked the lad into the river. The policeman threw off his coat, jumped into the water and rescued the unconscious lad.

M'CORMICK TO TELL OF LOVE THAT FAILED

Chicago, Nov. 14.—The suit for divorce against Mme. Ganna Walska which Harold F. McCormick of Chicago will file here tells the story of his search for love.

The Herald and Examiner described the divorce bill as "one of the most human and sorrowful ever drawn in a divorce action, an epic of disillusionment, a narrative of heartaches."

In it, the newspaper adds, "Mr. McCormick will describe his futile efforts to hold the affection and interest of his brilliant young wife."

There is to be no question of alimony, the newspaper pointed out, because of previous settlement by the millionaire. Grounds will be that Mme. Walska has refused to come back to America and make her home here. McCormick gave his bride $10,000,000.

"It's entirely a personal matter and I'd prefer not to talk about it at this time," McCormick answered to a question as to when the suit might be filed. He added:

"If I were to tell you that, I would be violating my original position would I not? I am sure you can appreciate my position."

Then, the newspaper said, there was a pause, after which Mr. McCormick added: "I believe I shall stand pat on that statement."

Meanwhile word has been received from Paris, where Mme. Ganna Walska, former prima donna, is conducting a perfume shop and profitably selling aids to beauty, that she will not contest the suit.

SADIE KELLY HAS HER ORDER FOR WEDDING

Well—it's almost all over now excepting to wrap up a few sandwiches for the overseas honeymoon.

Sadie Kelly, "sandwich queen," and George Henry Kelley (with the extra "e") got the marriage license today in Newton and Judge William F. Bacon granted a waiver of the five-day law so that the marriage could take place Friday.

At 1 a. m. Saturday the Kelleys plan to sail from New York for Europe, to be gone until some time in January.

George, who is a broker, gave his age as 28 and his address as No. 20 Pequossette road, Belmont. Sadie—her real first name is Sarah—said she is 32 and lives at No. 739 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre.

Judge Bacon asked only one question of the couple after they gave their reason for wishing a waiver to permit them to be married in time for sailing.

He asked Sadie how old she was. Sadie blushed and said she was 32. Then the waiver was granted and the license issued.

Santa Claus' Extra P.O. Help This Year to Cost $9,000 000

Washington, Nov. 14 A.P.)—Santa Claus is going to make the Post Office Department dig down and shell out approximately $9,000,000 to pay the extra cost of handling gifts and greetings this Christmas over and above the ordinary expenses of running the mail service.

The great volume of Christmas mail last year required extra expenditure totaling $8,680,215. Additional clerks received $2,856,672; railroads for additional transportation $2,200,000; additional city letter carriers, $1,622,575, and overtime and travel allowance for clerks, $725,000.

'MR. ELDER' TO TOIL AS WIFE CHASES FAME

Washington, Nov. 14 (A.P.)—Ruth Elder, wearing a Parisian frock instead of her famous knickers came to the national capital today to be the guest of President Coolidge at luncheon and to meet Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, the man she says inspired her hop over the Atlantic.

One of the first things the young flier did on arrival here was to deny any estrangement with her 24-year old husband, Lyle Womack. But she will not return to Panama with him "just now," she said, adding that Lyle is going back to Panama to day." He decided on that when he could not get work in this country.

Miss Elder and her husband spent 40 minutes together last night, friends said, and they wept while exchanging pledges of affection. A member of Miss Elder's party described her as "a small town girl, who became famous overnight," and said her intention was to return to New York before tomorrow to consider which of numerous proffered contracts she would accept.

Contracts offered Miss Elder run as high as $12,000 a week, it was declared. Her intention is to reap what gains are offered by reason of her flight, and then, gratefully, to return to Panama to her husband.

SOCIETY GIRLS GOING TO AFRICA FOR BIG GAME

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.)—Motion picture cameras and rifles will be included in the equipment of two young society women who plan to sail next week to spend three months in Africa stalking elephants, lions, rhinoceros and small beasts.

The expedition will take Mrs. Harold E. Talbott, formerly Miss Peggy Thayer of Philadelphia and Miss Gertrude Sanford, daughter of John Sanford of Amsterdam, N. Y., into the Tanganyika territory of Uganda.

IN CONCERT TONIGHT

Large groups of members of the Professional Women's Club of Boston and scores of other devotees of music are to attend the song recital in Steinert Hall to be given tonight by Miss Yvonne des Rosiers, young soprano. This Worcester girl will enter grand opera in January. Tonight she will sing "The Yellow Moon," a song composed and dedicated to her by Oland Clarke of Brookline.

GRAND OPERA AT $1 TO $5 PLANNED IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 14 (A.P.)—Grand Opera at prices ranging from $1 to $5 is the announced purpose of the National Opera Guild which has obtained an indefinite option on the Century Theatre.

The Guild plans the presentation of English translations of famous Russian operas hitherto not produced in this country. Alexander Von Kreisler, until recently director of the opera at Riga, has been engaged to conduct the Russian operas.

Pastor Plans to Swim Channel

London, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—The Rev. Herbert Puerrie, athletic vicar of St. Andrew's parish, Jersey, proposed to conquer the English Channel in an exhibition swim to raise money to complete the building of his half-finished church.

Many good Used Cars driven only a few hundred miles are offered every day in Boston American Classified Ads. See Classification 106.

FURS One Year to Pay

Thirty-Five Years of Square Dealing with the Public

Not one customer can point their finger at us and say that we ever deceived them in the way of honest values for honest dollars.

We Can't Perform Miracles

It is impossible for us to sell you a $200 coat for $85, or a $300 coat for $125, or a $260 coat for $60, therefore you will never see such offerings advertised by this concern.

STORAGE

During our storage season we find hundreds of customers who have been sadly deceived in the purchase of a coat, and in many instances we find that after one season this class of coat is not worth the cost of repairing same.

PROTECTION

When one thinks of one fur only (rabbit or hare) having forty different names, many sounding like that of well-known furs, how is the public going to know just what is being offered?

HUDSON SEAL

When a Hudson Seal coat, which is dyed muskrat, is offered for sale, how is the public going to know whether the coat is made from good, honest, selected skins, or from flats, throw-outs, Canadians, burnt skins, etc., etc., etc.? They all look alike to the buyer. Even the shrewdest can easily be deceived. Therefore, we know much better than you that protection is very much needed when no little amount of hard earned money is being spent for the purchase of a fur coat.

We offer you full protection in quality and price, and our interest in your coat never ceases during its life.

PROTECTION YOU DON'T PAY FOR

We examine, compare, test, and insist on a certain quality skin being used in every coat we offer for your selection. For this reason Dolan & Son's never hesitate in offering $500 rewards, and our money-back guarantee to each customer who might favor us with a share of their patronage.

TERMS

Our terms are as easy as any offered in Boston or Massachusetts, and our merchandise and business dealings can always be relied upon.

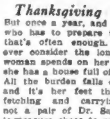
Thanksgiving Comes

But once a year, and to the one who has to prepare the dinner, that's often enough. Did you ever consider the long hours a woman spends on her feet when she has a house full of company? All the burden falls on Mother, and it's her feet that do the feuching and carrying. Why not a pair of Dr. Scholl's fitted-to-measure shoes to relieve some of the extra strain? Only $8.00, but think of the comfort and foot freedom they mean to those poor, tired feet. And a revivifying foot treatment, too, for corns, callouses and strained and aching arches. Give Mother a chance to get through her work more quickly and easily and enjoy the holiday. And incidentally give thanks for Dr. Allan P. Saul, my competent chiropodist-optometrist, 3rd floor, 110 Tremont, the New Studio Bldg.

Of Unusual Interest

Are the gift pieces on display in the Unusual Shop, 53 Temple Place, this week. Some of the finest examples of Japanese art I have seen to a small Vanity or night lamp in Satsuma, richly decorated with a lovely paper parchment shade for only $3.60. Another in the Thousand Wise Men design, painted on china, is $5.00. Other larger lamps of exquisite color and pattern for $16.00 and up. Truly unusual are the things found in this shop Strange pieces that circle the globe and come to rest here, ready to please your taste or fancy.



O-o-h—Peachy!

Is Lesquendieu's perfect foundation cream, made of real peaches. For softening and bleaching the skin to a delicate peach and cream texture and coloring. It is truly superb. And so reasonable at $2.00 a jar, when you consider its quality and excellence. It stays on all will not bead and come out in a shine no matter how fast or far you travel in the day's rush. You need just a tiny bit smoothed on with the finger tip. A jar lasts me for months, and I use it regularly. Ask for Lesquendieu's Peach Cream at the toilet goods counter of Meyer Jonas's, corner of Tremont and Boylston Sts.

For the Game

Of the year, when all the world and his sweetheart turns out en masse, why not a new hat? I found just the thing to wear into the football mob and come out looking as fresh and smart as new. Close fitting crushable hats, some turning back off the face, some with very narrow brims, some of silk, or satin, and bright metal cloth, but all oh! so smart. Large head sizes, too, for the unbobbed sister or the hard-to-fit head. For $5.00 at Brooking's, 484 Washington St. 'Nuff said, Anne of my heart.

Literally Thousands

Of women endorse the Tricho System to their friends and families for the removal of superfluous hair on the face, arms, neck and other parts of the body. They offer you the results of a lifetime of study. Old methods are dangerous and undependable, and are sure to mar the delicate skin. A personal interview and consultation may be had without charge at the Tricho salon at 108 Boylston St., Hancock 2242. It is no longer necessary to suffer this handicap to social and business success.

Two Cents a Pair

Norfolk Hosiery Shop has a special lot of black chiffons, all silk from top to toe, full fashioned, which they are selling for 98c, two pair for $1.90; sizes 8½ to 10. A $2.00 stocking is in every way, Anne, or never saw one. For wear with these Wintry days there is a soft wool underhose for 89c. For the men, a fine, smooth, silk and wool mixture, in tan, gray and black, regular 50c value, three pairs for $1.00. Sizes 9½ to 11½.

On the street floor of the Little Bldg., 89 Boylston Street.

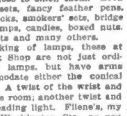
About This Time

Every year, you know, Filene's enlarge their Gift Shop, and from now until after Christmas all the lovely gift novelties are moved from the Street Floor to the second floor. And such adorable things, Anne! Potteries Italian imported and domestic; exquisite Venetian glassware; a recent shipment of old pewter, box novelties, such as the Elsie Firmoy flowers, made in Hollywood, of heavy treated paper—cosmos, wild roses, California poppies and many others, looking so lifelike I dipped my nose to smell them. Book ends, desk sets, fancy feather pens, magazine racks, smokers' sets, bridge and table lamps, candles, boxed stationery baskets and many others.

But, speaking of lamps, these at Filene's Gift Shop are not just ordinary bridge lamps, but have arms that turn either up or down and accommodate either the conical shade or the wide top shade. Price $4.85. A twist of the wrist and your lamp turns upwards to light the whole room; another twist and a change of shades, and presto! an ideal reading light. Filene's, my Anne, is on the corner of Summer and Washington Sts., as you know.

I Am Quite Sure, Anne,

You've followed my advice and started to do your Christmas Shopping Early If so, you're all ready to jot down this note and dash up to Houghton & Dutton's, Tremont and Bromfield Streets, to the toilet goods counter, and get as many as need be of the lovely toilet sets they are offering for $6.95 You're sure to want more than one, for all girls love them and they make perfect gifts. This set has ten pieces—count 'em! Comb, brush, long-handled mirror, shoe horn, powder box, hair receiver, cuticle knife, button-hook, nail file and buffer. In a delicate ivory and amber combination, in three colors—blue, pink, and mauve. In all my travels, Anne, I've never seen such real value for the money Causing me to chant, as usual, the old refrain in praise of Houghton's policy of offering only the highest quality merchandise compatible with true economy, which means, briefly, that at Houghton's you always get your money's worth and just a little more.



Truly the Last

Word in luxurious loveliness are the graceful Lucille-colored Holeproof hose with the elasticizing, ankle-heel effect. Smartly sheer, of purest silk these stockings cannot be surpassed for luxury and long wear. And you need pay not a penny more than $1.95 for them, either. Where? At Talbot's, of course, 335 Washington St., home of the Holeproof Hose.

And another thing, Anne. Please don't confuse the Holeproof $1.95 stocking with ordinary stockings selling at that price. This stocking formerly sold for $1.65 but thanks to its enormous popularity and the tremendous volume of sales, the resulting quantity production has made it possible for Holeproof to sell this stocking at $1.50. In no way is it to be compared to any other $1.50 stocking. A fine, full-fashioned stocking clear to the 4-inch lisle hem with a long-wearing lisle foot, of fine service weight silk, it's a stocking you can be proud of for either daytime or evening wear. Don't forget this stocking also comes in all the Lucille-of-Paris colors, than which there are none smarter in the world.

A Triumph in Economy

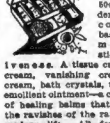
Are the smart, stylish "Sevilla" dresses Chandler & Co. are showing in the Spanish Galleries for $12.75 and $15.00 for women, misses and junior misses. They are in the newest and most becoming shades of the best Fall colors, including Newport Blue, Autumn Leaf Brown, Marron Glace, Spanish Cedar, Crimson Maple, Pine needle, as well as the regulation blacks and navys. They are of finest satin crepe and canton crepe, and are made expressly for the Spanish Galleries by one of Chandler & Co.'s best manufacturers. And best of all, they fit perfectly with little or no alteration. With an unexpected important luncheon thrust upon her, your Priscilla dashed into the Spanish Galleries, spent a hurried twenty minutes with the helpful saleslady, and sauntered gayly out, perfectly attired to the last stitch in the hem, and ready to challenge the most critical eye. If you haven't explored the Spanish Galleries, Anne, do so I beg of you. Chandler & Co., you know, on the corner of Tremont and West Sts.

Here's an Opening

Sale that's worthy of note, Anne. Nellie Davis, 3 Basement Boulevard, downstairs in the Little Bldg., 80 Boylston St., is offering at her opening this week some truly excellent values in rayon bloomers, two pair for $1.95 These are strongly reinforced in the places where reinforcements are in order, double lock seams to prevent untimely ripping, and the popular single cuff elastic knee. Miss Davis was formerly with one of Boston's largest department stores, and she certainly knows values. Stockings, too, and a full line of reliable underwear and lingerie.

Confess, Anne

How many creams and powders have you discarded because they didn't agree with your skin? It's a saving to invest 60c in an Acquaintance Package of famous London toiletries. The box of powder alone is worth the 60c. A powder with a cold cream base, and remarkable stick-to-itiveness. A tissue cream, violet cream, vanishing cream, hand cream, bath crystals, talcum and emollient ointment—a combination of healing balms that overcomes the ravishes of the rapid pace of modern life. All for 60c. In Dorothy Wanda's shop, 8th floor, Lawrence Bldg., 84 West St. (10c extra by mail.)



"The Best Values"

In Boston are what people call Evelyn's dresses. She is offering amazing bargains in her entire stock of exclusive models, reduced to $12.95. Dressy frocks in silks, velvets, georgettes, crepe and velvet combinations, and stunning evening or dinner dresses. Also some tailored effects in novelty wool and tweeds. At $9.95, misses' models in crepe back satins, crepe de chine, satins, embroidered georgettes and jerseys; wool crepe, flannel, sports fabrics, and many others. At Evelyn's dress shop 8 Winter Street, on the 3rd floor.

In Temporary Quarters

Just opposite her shop at 51 Park Sq. Arcade, which is being enlarged and renovated, is our own Mae Callaghan, where we can always find such adorable dresses. She wants me to tell you about a specially smart tailored dress in rayon wool crepe, with sporty little pockets, rows of buttons, high or turned down neck, and a great variety of other styles, for only $10.00. Also the still popular "Monkey Dress" in wool crepe for $15.00. She has a broken lot of $22.50 dresses, sizes mostly 16 and 18, that will go for $8.95, $10, and $12.50. Mae Callaghan's temporary abode is No. 34 Park Sq. Bldg.

Did You Go

Up to visit the French's last week, and have one of their inimitable shampoos and waves? You remember I told you last week that for this month, morning's only, they will shampoo and wave you for $1.00. From the reports I would suggest that you telephone now for your appointment if you expect to get the wave for next Sunday. The number is Capitol 8186. The address is the Third Floor of the New Studio Bldg., 110 Tremont St. And the name is the French Beauty shop.

An Old Friend

is with us again, Anne, whom I know you'll be glad to welcome. Landfield of hosiery and exquisite underwear fame, have opened a new shop on the Third Floor at 8 Winter Street and are starting off with some wonderful hosiery values. $2.00 pure chiffon hose, silk to the top, for $1.49 $2.00 service weights for $1.39, and a $1.75 service weight, with a small lisle cuff for $1.29 These are full fashioned and of excellent quality. One of the new cut-out pictures to paste on the knee given away with every pair of stockings.

Wait a Minute, Anne!

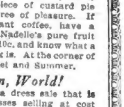
Let's drop in on Nadelle's here and get one of their lovely sandwiches and a cup of coffee. After an hour or two of mad dashing we'll get that well-known hollow feeling in my insides, and I know of no better place to lose it than Nadelle's. Their food is so pure and satisfying, and it's the only place I ever ate a piece of custard pie with any degree of pleasure. If you don't want coffee, have a tall glass of Nadelle's pure fruit orange juice, 10c, and know what a real fruit drink is. At the corner of Chauncy Street and Summer.

Listen, World!

I've found a dress sale that is a sale. Dresses selling at cost and less than cost. Satins, Georgettes, crepes, some all velvets, for $10.75 that were formerly $15.00 and more. Figured velveteen and crepe combinations in sports models, some all velveteens with novelty trimmings and odd leather-trimmed belts. The reason for this tremendous close-out sale is limited space and these dresses must make way for others. They are good mid-season values, Anne. Don't miss them. Oh, I thought I told you. At Florence Daniels' Shop, 7th floor, 41 Winter St.

You'll Be Delighted

To find all your Fall needs in footwear so ably filled by Andrews, corner Temple Pl. and Washington St. No matter what the occasion, Andrews will carefully select the newest style mood and offer it to you in models that will complete your costume perfectly. And, not withstanding the excellent quality, will ask very, very little of your clothes allowance. $12.00 for the smart brilliant polished-leather Oxford featured this week in black or brown suede trimmed with kid, or patent throughout. A beauty!



Here's a Question

Anne. What is better than—or at least the equal of—a brisk walk on a snapping cold evening just before you give up and call it a day? Answer: A few dabs of Virozol on a bit of cotton first, to remove the dust and dirt and then another dab to tighten and freshen the skin, leaving it glowing and pink as a rose Even if you like your evening constitutional, take my advice and use Virozol anyway. It's so cleansing and refreshing. Get it at Chandler & Co., corner of Tremont and West Sts., for $1.25.

Faithfully yours,
Priscilla

Lafount for Radio Board

Washington, Nov. 14 (I.N.S.)—President Coolidge today appointed Harold A. Lafount of Utah to be a member of the Federal Radio Commission. Lafount succeeds Commissioner John F. Dillon, who recently died.

N. H. SEEKS U. S. AID IN FLOOD RELIEF

Federal aid in rehabilitation after the flood is desired by New Hampshire as well as by Vermont President Coolidge was told today in a message to Washington from Senator George H. Moses of the former State.

The telegram was sent to the President as Attorney-General John G. Sargent, resident of Ludlow, Vt., was making a tour of the State, the inspection trip including a conference at Burlington with James L. Fieser, vice-chairman of the American Red Cross, and State officials.

Attorney-General Sargent will give the results of his inspection to Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover on Wednesday.

Other developments today were calling of a special session of the New Hampshire Legislature for November 29 to consider plans for flood relief, and the promulgation of a drastic order in Vermont forbidding heavy trucking over the flood-swept roads for an indefinite period. This is because the road beds are being constructed are only light, temporary structures.

Meanwhile railroads, whose lines were affected by the flood, reported today that work of rebuilding is proceeding rapidly. On all but three sections of its lines the Canadian Pacific had 1,500 men working today.

The heaviest freight movement in the Boston & Maine Railroad's history on the Fitchburg division took place over the west end, through the Hoosac Tunnel to Boston.

There were 3,235 cars moved east from the Hudson River gateways in 56 trains, equivalent to 17 miles of freight cars, without the engines. The entire movement was accomplished in two days.

$25,000 B. & A. COAL YARD FIRE

Four cars loaded with coal were destroyed today when flames swept the coal pocket in the Beacon Park yards of the Boston & Albany Railroad off Cambridge street, Allston.

The fire caused an estimated damage of $50,000.

More than 20,000 tons of coal are stored in the pocket.

Three alarms were sounded for the blaze, which brought hundreds to the scene. The firemen were handicapped in fighting the flames by low pressure in the railroad hydrants. As a result Assistant Chief Henry Fox ordered 2,000 feet of hose laid from Commonwealth avenue over the main tracks of the railroad and 1,000 feet from Cambridge street.

During the fire a shifting engine drew 15 other coal cars to safety.

GUSTIN AND PAL UNABLE TO GET BAIL, JAILED

Stephen Wallace, alias "Steve" Gustin, South Boston gang leader with his pal, John Barry, of Dorchester, were sent to Charles Street Jail today in default of $25,000 bonds imposed on each when arraigned in Municipal Court on charges of robbery while armed.

Both men were picked out of a lineup by Frank Franklin, employee of a Belvidere street auto rental concern and victim of a holdup Saturday morning.

Judge Michael Sullivan continued the case to November 21.

Gustin and Barry were brought into court by Inspector Philip S. Dodge of the Back Bay police. Inspector Dodge told the court the man identified as Gustin was a handkerchief over his face, peering out through eyeslits as he handed a revolver at his victim. Franklin was relieved of $100 and two customers handed over $5 between them, he said.

To offset tampering with and coercion of witnesses, which, police charge, has prevented them from obtaining convictions against Gustin, all victims are arming themselves with sworn affidavits from persons questioned.

LAST TRIBUTES FOR MARGARET A. FOX

Funeral services for Margaret A. Fox, president of the Women's Catholic Club of Boston, director of the League of Catholic Women and director of the Guild of the Infant Savior, were held today at St. Margaret's Church, Dorchester, with delegations present from these organizations.

Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

3 QUAKES REPORTED BY LONDON AND HAMBURG

London, Nov. 14 (A.P.)—Earthquake shocks were recorded by the Kew observatory at 12:21 a. m., and 5:56 a. m. The epicentre was estimated at 3,800 miles away, probably in the Arctic Ocean.

Another shock was registered at 7:33 a. m., the epicentre of which was about 6,300 miles away. Hamburg and Naples report similar shocks at corresponding times.

Series to Bare Bolshevik Intrigue

Secretary of State Kellogg on June 12, 1925, declaring that Mexico was "on trial before the world."

Calles Supporters Ask Confidence Vote

The Calles Government quite naturally took immediate steps to consolidate public opinion at home in its behalf, and Calles supporters in the various State legislatures called for votes of confidence.

Deputy Garcia Vega of the Queretare Legislature asked for such an expression of support and introduced a resolution calling for a vote of "Full confidence in the Government of President Calles during the present crisis." The resolution was defeated, after speeches had been made against it by Deputies Jesus E. Vera and Francisco Perra.

Editorial expression of approval of the American policy in Nicaragua had not found utterance in Mexico during the recent controversy, due to the Calles policy of rigid press control. But a concrete instance of the existence of a strong under-current of pro-American feeling is found in the voluntary offer to the Hearst papers of documents proving conclusively the determination of the Calles Government to prevent Nicaragua's compliance with the terms of the Bryan-Chamorro Treaty of 1916, giving the United States the right to build a canal through Nicaraguan territory and establish a defending naval base at Fonseca Bay, on the Nicaraguan Pacific Coast, and proving, also, many other things.

Six of these documents are published in facsimile today. English translations will be found under the photographic reproductions of the Spanish text of each document. Three are signed in ink by President Calles, and three by high officials of his government.

Executive Orders for Payments to Zepeda

One, an executive order signed by Calles on June 2, 1926, directs the Treasury Department to pay over the sum of a hundred thousand pesos ($50,000) to Dr. Pedro Jose Zepeda, "for the purchase of arms and munitions for the Liberal Army of Nicaragua." Dr. Zepeda is the Mexico City agent of the Nicaraguan Liberal party and of the revolutionary faction headed by Dr. Juan Bautista Sacasa, who was present in Mexico at the time this order was issued.

Though many other documents are available and will be published in their turn, this one in itself constitutes documentary proof that the Mexican Government not only supported the Sacasa revolution once it was going, but actually helped organize and finance it. In the order, the specific statement was made by Calles that the money was for "the purchase of arms and munitions" for the Liberal Army of Nicaragua.

There was no "Liberal Army" in the field at that time. It existed only in the minds of the Calles-Sacasa conspirators, who were plotting to overthrow the pro-American government of Nicaragua and replace it with one hostile to the United States which would fit into the general Bolshevik scheme and prevent the construction of the canal which this country must have for its national safety.

Heavy fighting broke out in Nicaragua in August of last year, some two months after the issuance on June 2 of the first Calles order financing the "Liberal" movement. The fighting was conducted with rifles and cartridges purchased with this and succeeding sums of money furnished by Calles, and furnished by the Mexican Government from its own military stores.

Second Money Order Signed on Next Day

The second order for a money payment to Zepeda was signed by Calles on June 3, 1926, one day later than the first. It was for fifty thousand pesos ($25,000), to be used by Zepeda, for "expenses in the performance of a mission of a secret character confided to him by the Executive." Zepeda turned the money over to Sacasa, who was to head the proposed revolutionary movement, and Sacasa used it to establish a rebel "junta" in Guatemala City, and to finance the comings and goings of secret agents. Elsewhere we publish in facsimile the Spanish text and signature of Calles to these two orders and of the Treasury Department orders issued to make them effective.

Two additional documents are reproduced, one signed by Calles himself and the other by M. O'Farril, private secretary to Alberto J. Pani, Secretary of the Treasury. They relate to a payment of 10,000 pesos ($5,000) which Calles ordered made to Dr. Carlos Leon, and which Pani made as ordered, but without signing the pay warrant himself.

Venezuela Revolution Also Was Planned in Mexico

Dr. Leon is a Venezuelan radical, virulently anti-American, who took an active part in organizing the Sacasa Liberal movement which was to overthrow the Conservative Nicaraguan Government for the capital sin of friendship for the United States and favoring American construction of the proposed canal through Nicaraguan territory.

It was understood that, following the successful establishment of Sacasa in Nicaragua at the head of a Liberal Government subject to the orders of Calles, Leon was to organize an insurrection in Venezuela, the government of that country being friendly to the United States and therefore objectionable to the Mexican Executive.

(Tomorrow documents published in the Boston Evening American and other Hearst papers reveal financial steps taken by President Calles to support the Liberal Nicaraguan movement started by him in opposition to the United States. They also show the direct threat made by Calles "unless this program is carried out.")

BELIEVE OBREGON BOMBING POLITICAL; ROBLES HELD

Mexico City, Nov. 14 (A.P.).—General Alvaro Obregon, Mexico's sole presidential candidate remaining as a result of the recent revolt, today expressed belief that the attempt to assassinate him was of political nature.

The general undoubtedly had the narrowest escape of his life when he emerged with but slight injuries from his automobile, at which two bombs had been thrown and a rain of bullets by four assailants. Miguel Alession Robles, former Secretary of Industry and Commerce, was arrested while coming from a theatre. No reason was given, but some believe that it was an outgrowth of the attempted assassination.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Albert Spalding, Violinist, to Play at Symphony Hall to Aid Household Nursing Association Tomorrow Night

HAVING ALREADY ESTABLISHED ITS PRETTY BRITTANY COFFEE SHOP ON A SOLID working basis, the Household Nursing Association, under Mrs. Moses Williams' and Mrs. Henry Channing's gifted leadership, turns to other ways whereby to secure pleasantly some immediate financial returns for its welfare work. The musicale is prime favorite whereby to gather in the dollars, and given a favorite artist and a philanthropy that has society's keen interest, and the results are sure to be golden, so via the musicale it is that the association works. And the favorite artist is Albert Spalding, violinist.

AND TOMORROW EVENING the Association hopes for a comfortably full house for Symphony Hall. Friends of the Association, admirers of the artist should make up an audience of such numbers as to satisfy the most ambitious of promoters. The upper crust has a very live interest in the Association and its work, and so therefore the reservations and the patroness lists are the weighty sort that foretell financial success. Perfecting plans over a delectable luncheon at the Coffee Shop is a pleasant task for members of the Association.

MRS. MOSES WILLIAMS WAS there one day recently when the shop was doing a thriving trade. Mrs. Henry Dubois Tudor was a patron, and had with her Miss Anne Tudor, attractive daughter, recently betrothed to Roger Stinson of Baltimore. Mrs. Channing was there also, busy with the endless detail of the concert. In fact whether concert plans be afoot or not, every member makes it a point to take luncheon, tea or dinner in the pretty little shop with as much frequency as social obligations permit.

MESDAMES C. ALEXANDER NEWHALL, CARL DREYFUS, JOHN T. BOTTOMLEY, George L. Catlin, J. Randolph Coolidge, Samuel Eliot, David J. Evans, Donald McK. Frost, Robert D. Hall, Roger Pierce, William Lowell Putnam, Robert W. Rivers, Charles L. Scudder, Howard Rogers, William W. Vaughan and C. P. Woodworth are high in Nursing Association councils. Likewise Natalie Whitwell, H. Bradlee Fenno and Dr. Robert D. Osgood, comprising a staff most competent and representative, and all work with a will to make the concert successful.

THE NORFOLK HUNT SET BETOOK ITSELF FOR THE WEEK end to a new hunting country. With its horses, its dogs and its smart pink hunting regalia it went down into the beautiful stretch about North Easton to make a day of it. A run in the late afternoon and no less than three entertainments made a continuous festivity ecstatic to the liking of Mr. Henry Vaughan's spirited troupe, with practically the entire membership turning out.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE RUN THERE WAS TEA TO BE taken with the Henry Cabots, Jr., with the former Miss Olivia Ames (scarcely more than a bride), playing the hostess in her expertly finished way. Next there was dinner, taken with Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ames at Langwater, and then dancing way into the little hours at the North Easton estate of others of the Ames Clan, Mrs. Louis Frothingham and her spouse, the Honorable Senator.

ALTOGETHER IT WAS A PARTICULARLY "AMES" SORT OF DAY with the Norfolk set. The three families acting as hosts are all of the Ames Clan that has such magnificent estates about North Easton (seven in all, I believe), and the run was for the most part over these selfsame estates, a brand new experience for the Norfolk set, and one especially marked out for the Ames day. The dance was particularly brilliant, with everyone in "pink," when men are as decorative a part of the color scheme as are the fairer sex.

SURE TO BE AN UNUSUAL FESTIVITY AND FAR FROM THE usual run of debutante affairs is the small dance Berthold Schlesinger gives on December 1 for his cousin, Miss Gloria Braggiotti. Even though designated as a "small" dance, it's very likely to run into the hundreds, for it's to be given at the Country Club, spacious and of homelike informality, and once either Mr. Schlesinger or Miss Braggiotti starts a list there's no ending to it. They both have friends by the scores.

MRS. HARRY E. ROBINSON OF NO. 296 COMMONWEALTH AVENUE was hostess to a group of "Sunrise Riders" at a "hunt breakfast" following their morning appearance on the bridle path. It was the first of a series of such breakfasts. Mrs. Robinson entertained twelve at her table, including Mrs. Agnes B. McClintock, Mr. Elbert W. Eliot, Miss Grace De Pay Stoner, Miss Margaret Blandfield, Miss Bertha Blandfield, Mr. W. E. McGonigle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Manning, Willard A. Mosher and Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Mahoney.

Percival Gilbert, Jr., and his little sister, Jaqueline, find sunny hours in the gardens pleasant for their play time. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert of No. 100 Beacon street.

Tank Sails Into Air Like Huge Balloon; Bursts Like Bomb

Pittsburgh, Nov. 14 (A.P.)—A vivid description of the gas tank explosion here today was given by Fire Chief Richard L. Smith, who was driving by in his auto, in full view of the blast, when it occurred.

"The great steel tank rose hundreds of feet into the air like a great balloon," he said. "It remained intact for an instant and then burst like a great bomb.

"As it let go with a terrific roar, the hundreds of tons of steel went hurtling through the air as so much pasteboard and then the crash of buildings and glass filled the air."

REMUS SCORES FIRST POINT IN DEATH TRIAL

"king of the bootleggers," went on trial in Criminal Court for the shooting to death of his wife, Imogene, in Eden Park, Cincinnati, on October 6, last.

Remus scored his first point in the court drama soon after he assumed the dual role of defendant and co-counsel by himself in response to the charge of first degree murder.

Reading a petition in a clear, resonant voice, he made a motion that the court instruct the prosecution, the family of the deceased Mrs. Remus, Mrs. Grace Campbell, sister, and Harry Brown, brother and Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., to surrender documents vital to the defense.

MOTION GRANTED.

"These papers are necessary that this petitioner receive justice in this trial," declared Remus.

The court granted the motion over objections by Prosecutor Charles P. Taft, son of former President and present Chief U. S. Justice William Howard Taft.

The petition related especially to papers showing transactions of the defendant in connection with certain distilleries.

The petition also stated that while Remus was imprisoned at Atlanta, "the deceased, with the aid of confederates," confiscated household furniture and other belongings from his residence at Eighth street and Hermosa avenue, Cincinnati.

Remus and his co-counsel, Charles H. Elston, plan to paint the defendant as a harassed man who was driven to kill the woman who he claims "double-crossed" him for Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., a former prohibition agent.

Prosecutor Taft declared he will demand the death penalty—the electric chair—for Remus. Taft is aided by two assistant county prosecutors, Carl E. Bassler and Walter K. Sibfald.

TAFT MAY CALL DODGE.

Taft disclosed today for the first time that Dodge will be used only as a State's rebuttal witness.

Remus said he hoped he would have an opportunity of cross-examining Dodge.

"How I'll go after him," he exclaimed.

Judge Shook ordered that no typewriters, telegraph instruments, flashlight photography, or tripod cameras be used in the courtroom. Within "reasonable limits" hand cameras may be used.

After Remus won his first point in the case selection of the jury was begun.

Two Confess $22,000 P. O. Clerk Holdup

Reading, Pa., Nov. 14 (A.P.)—Signed statements from Frank Glass, a Coatesville bookkeeper, and J. Webster Evans, a postal clerk of Birdsboro, that they had planned the "holdup" of the postal clerk last Thursday when Glass seized a registered package containing $22,000 the clerk was delivering to the Birdsboro National Bank and fled to the Welsh Mountains, were in the hands of the authorities today.

Glass was driven by hunger from his hiding place in a hayloft of his aunt's barn, deep in the mountains, and Evans was taken into custody after Glass had confessed and implicated him in the fake holdup.

Evans told the police that he had planned the robbery because he was hopelessly in debt. "People bought gasoline at my wife's store and couldn't pay for it" he said. "They left me stuck with big bills. People like that should not own automobiles."

All of the stolen money was recovered.

ACCUSES MARY BOYLE O'REILLY IN SUIT

Auburndale, where Miss O'Reilly lives.

The dispute is due for an airing in Middlesex County Superior Court tomorro, when other cases may cause brief delay.

The aged landlord, in a reply filed to Miss O'Reilly's declarations, asserts that a letter which she terms a memorandum of agreement relating to a lease was obtained from him "through fraudulent misrepresentation," that she dictated the letter to him in her own home and then told him to mail it to her.

The authoress daughter of the famous poet asks the court to prevent Frye from ejecting her from the Duffield road house, declaring he ordered her out last August. She also asks that he be forced to carry out an alleged agreement to give her a lease with the privilege of renewal and option to purchase.

She also asks that her landlord be forced to reimburse her for repairs amounting to $1,466.21.

In reply, Frye declares he was willing to pay $1,000, which he alleges is the correct cost of the repairs, and he denies the lease agreement, asserting he offer Miss O'Reilly the use of the house while she was waiting to have her own home built.

Over-Stout Women

No matter how heavy you are, here is an adjustable Reducing Surgical Corset, designed by one of the world's foremost corsetiers, that will just simply bring you together into the appearance of shapeliness and for the first time enable you to be comfortable all day long. To any overstout Woman it will show at least a

Fifty Pound Reduction

And it will do this because it takes on all the bulge of the abdomen, rounds over the hips, curves the waist line to symmetrical appearance and brings the entire figure into correct proportions.

Makes You Shapely

Those layers of excess fat will gradually melt down. The flesh thus held more compactly will become more firm. The figure held securely in place to a greater degree of perfection, and does it fit easily, aches, pains and distresses caused by overburdened fat disappear and all of this because the Corset

Holds You Perfectly

It has all the beauty and exquisite workmanship of the finest custom-made corset, but is made of special material, so that it is reinforced to stand strain, fits snugly at all points, feels smooth and moulded to the shape and cannot bulge, bend, wrinkle, curl up or get out of place at any point.

Try It Free

The personal representative of W. S. Rice, with physician registered in Mass., is now here to give the ladies of Boston every opportunity to fully test his wonderful Reducing Surgical Corset.

Put it on and see how charmingly it feels, how perfectly it brings you into shape, how nice and comfortable you feel, how easily you breathe, how active you become, how you can bend over without strain, walk upstairs like a girl, and wear modern gowns with all the appearance and freedom of a perfect figure.

It is made by W. S. Rice, Inc., in the largest and most complete factory of its kind in the world. And if you have been so unfortunate as to have undergone a surgical operation that has left the abdomen weak, a simple attachment of air cushions gives perfect protection.

DIVORCED, BUT ARE FRIENDS

An apparently friendly divorce was granted to Mrs. Marie H. Stevens of Marlboro from Louis W. Stevens, manufacturer and aviator of Hartford, in Middlesex Probate Court today, the litigants chatting amicably in the corridor after the proceedings.

Mrs. Stevens was granted a decree by Judge John B. Leggat, after testifying that the couple were married in Marlboro, June 17, 1913, and that her husband deserted her in 1924.

Stevens, who was a captain in the air service during the war, and who has continued his aviation activities since, flew to Boston on one occasion to attend a session of the trial, only to find that it had been postponed.

Mrs. Stevens was awarded custody of a daughter, Nancy, six, and by agreement will receive $135 a month allmony, with the stipulation that it be increased when her former husband's income grows larger.

BEATS DEATH IN RACE.

James Condon, sixty-five, a storekeeper whose place is within one block of where the explosion occurred, told of a race he ran with a sheet of flame down Recisdale street.

Standing at a window, Condon was cut about the body when the force of the blast shattered the glass. He rushed into the street, believing the district had been visited by a quake.

Looking towards the gas works, he said, he saw a sheet of flame traveling down the street in his direction. Condon started to run ahead of the fire and escaped.

CHIEF JUSTICE RUGG RESUMES COURT DUTY

Chief Justice Arthur P. Rugg of the Supreme court, who has not been to the Pemberton square courthouse since the June consultation, resumed his duties today with the full bench, which is hearing arguments in law and equity cases. Early in July the chief justice submitted to an operation and after leaving the hospital at Worcester has been at his Summer home in Sterling.

SALLY'S SHOULDERS

by Beatrice Burton
Author of "The HOLLYWOOD GIRL" ETC.

The Story of a Boston Girl, Clever, Pretty and 20

CHAPTER I.

IN every family in this world of ours there always is one member who shoulders the burden for the rest—the work-beast.

Sometimes it is a mother, working all day long and far into the night for those she loves.

Sometimes it is a father, slaving and saving to make both ends meet.

In the Jerome family it was Sally.

It was Sally who carried the family burdens—and they were many and heavy—upon her slender young shoulders.

But it is doubtful that she knew what a load she bore. Certainly she did not know what it was to feel sorry for herself. Her smile was like sudden sunrise. She walked as lightly as if there were wings fastened to her heels, and she carried those shoulders of hers so proudly that nobody ever guessed that trouble were piled high on both of them.

That was Sally Jerome for you! Clever and courageous and up-and-coming, and without an ounce of silly self-pity about her.

It was 6 o'clock on the third Monday morning in August, and quite warm.

In the Jerome family's second-floor flat on Hemenway Street Mrs. Jerome had had a bad night, one of the worst ones she had ever slept through.

Mrs. Jerome was asleep now and had been asleep for hours, although later she would declare she hadn't slept a wink. Her soft plump hands were still holding the novel she had been reading when she "dropped off."

In another room, Beauregard, her only son and the apple of her eye, moved restlessly in his slumbers.

Beauregard was called "Beau" for short, but he did not live up to his dashing nickname. For the only sweetheart he

MRS. FORBUSH RESCUED AFTER PRAYERS

Noted Hagenbeck Zoo May Be Moved to Nashua

PRAYED TO FIND WIFE OF PASTOR

Claremont, N. H., Nov. 14.—The prayer of a Roman Catholic chief of police for the safe and speedy return of Mrs. Anna Ramsey Forbush to her Protestant pastor husband and four children was followed almost immediately by the finding of the woman alive and well, in a rough lean-to on the side of Flag Rock Mountain.

A coincidence, perhaps, but a fact nevertheless, Claremont points out today as the wife of the Rev. Dascomb E. Forbush, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Canandaigua, N. Y., started for Baltimore, where she will undergo treatment for the strange mental malady that caused her to desert her husband abruptly in a Washington theatre on Oct. 19 and seek surcease from her ills in the wild.

Chief Daniel E. White is a devout Catholic, and while at mass in St. Mary's Catholic Church said a prayer that the missing "wood nymph" soon would be safely returned to her family. He echoed the prayer of a heart-sick husband, who constantly, through the long days and nights Mrs. Forbush was sought by posses in the woods, led the searchers with a prayer on his lips.

"My husband is a saint and doesn't deserve to have anything like me. I love him," said Mrs. Forbush after being found by 16-year-old Stephen Vanslit in his mountain lean-to. An "inferiority complex" brought on by her mental suffering is believed accountable for her strange act. She had lost 30 pounds in weight, but still retained her jewelry and a number of bills in her pocketbook.

Poison Victim

IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Martha Maloney, 36, of Newbury street, Back Bay, is at City Hospital suffering from poison taken by mistake for medicine.

HIGH TAXES DRIVE IT TO U. S.

Hamburg, Germany, Nov. 14 (A.P.)—Heinrich Hagenbeck, one of the Hagenbeck brothers, owners of the celebrated zoo which bears their name, is to go to America at the end of the year "on business."

Although the particulars were not disclosed it is rumors that the Hagenbecks intend to remove their wild animals, which are known throughout the world, to Nashua, N. H., where the Hagenbeck Brothers Company, Inc., carry on business.

The reasons for the removal are reported to have arisen from the long-drawn out boundary disputes between Prussia and Hamburg. The zoo at Stellingen was situated in Prussian territory, which was recently incorporated into Altona, a suburb of Hamburg.

This resulted in higher taxation and difficulties in connection with the shipping of pedigreed animals to America. This difficulty was due to Altona falling into the category of ports from which exportation would be prohibited in case of infection.

Hamburg residents view the reported closing down of one of the sights of the city as a national loss. It has been urged in scientific circles that the State take over the enterprise in behalf of the nation.

WIFE WOULDN'T KISS FRIENDS OF HUSBAND

She didn't mind so much playing the piano for his "drunken friends," Mrs. Josephine A. Minnehan of Bellingham testified in Norfolk divorce court today, but when her husband wanted her to kiss his pals she drew the line.

So Judge Joseph R. McCoole granted Mrs. Minnehan a divorce from John J. of Medway and awarded her $10 a week alimony for 50 weeks. He did not contest, and a cross-action he had filed, charging desertion, was dismissed.

BELIEVE RIVER VICTIM HUB GIRL

Boston police announced today belief that they have identified the woman thought to have been drowned with Jerome Sheldon of Capitol street, Watertown, whose body was found in his submerged automobile in the Naanexit River in Danielson, Ct.

The woman, whose hat and pocketbook were found in the machine, is believed to have been Arlene Keith, 28, a waitress, who formerly roomed on Upton street, South End.

The partial identification was made through a letter found in the pocketbook, which was addressed to Nicholas Francis, Joy Lunch, Tremont street, Boston, and which had not been mailed. Francis said Miss Keith told him she was going away for a few days on November 5, and would write. Sheldon was returning from a real estate deal in Connecticut.

AIDE TO HOOVER DIES IN CRASH

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 14 (A.P.)—In landing at the town flying field here today an army airplane carrying R. B. Slight, a secretary to Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, was wrecked and Mr. Slight was fatally injured. He was taken to the Heaton Hospital, where he died later. Lieut. Franklin Wolfe, the pilot, was not injured.

The army plane set out from Mitchel Field, N. Y., this morning and arrived over Montpelier at 11 a. m. Mr. Slight came here to arrange for Secretary Hoover's visit on Wednesday in connection with Vermont flood relief.

As the pilot was making his landing the plane hit the race course at the lower end of the field, after which it took the air for one jump then nosed into the ground and tipped over.

AIR HEROES TO SEE LINDY HONORED BY COOLIDGE

Curtiss Field, N. Y., Nov. 14 (I.N.S.)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh left here for Bolling Field, Washington, at 9:45 a. m. today, flying a Fairchild cabin monoplane. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Guggenheim of Port Washington.

Washington, Nov. 14 (A.P.)—Before a little group of aviators whose conquest over vast oceans have won them world-wide fame, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh will receive tonight from President Coolidge the Hubbard medal of the National Geographic Society awarded for signal feats in the field of exploration. Lindy flew from New York to Washington with his mother as a guest in his plane and Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Guggenheim.

Only seven men have received the high honor Lindy gets tonight. They include such men as Peary, Amundsen, Bartlett and Shackleton.

One of the seven will be present at the ceremony, Commander Richard E. Byrd. Others present will include Lieutenant George Noville, and Bernt Balchen.

Clarence D. Chamberlin, Charles A. Levine, Lieutenants Lester J. Maitland and Ernest Hegenberger, Ruth Elder, George Haldeman, William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee also will attend.

All the aviators had lunch today with the President at the White House. Miss Elder and Haldeman went to Washington by train.

OFFER $500 REWARD FOR MISSING GIRL

A reward of $500 for information leading to the whereabouts of nineteen year-old Annie Murray of Allston, who disappeared while en route from Greenfield to Boston on August 19, was posted today by the State police.

The reward is offered by the missing girl's sister, Miss Margaret Murray, but any information should be forwarded to the State police.

MANY POLICE OFFICERS AT CAPT. HURLEY'S FUNERAL

Police officials led by Superintendent Michael H. Crowley attended the funeral today of Joseph F. Hurley, retired police captain. A solemn high mass was celebrated at St. Thomas' Church, Jamaica Plain. Bearers were Sergeants John T. J. Corcoran, John F. Fitzpatrick, Michael J. Muldoon, Frank J. Kuhnen, Alfred N. Daniels and Sherman Augusta.

STUDENTS INTERNATIONAL MEETS AT RADCLIFFE

The Students' International Association of Radcliffe held its first meeting today since the amalgamation of the French, Spanish and Italian clubs into one organization interested in internationalism. A skit written by Grace Myers, 1928, Roxbury, was presented, in which she and Minna Ashwith, 1929, of Brookline, acted.

Cooking for Holiday

THERE'S no denying that a "different" dressing for the festive bird contributes much towards the success of the Thanksgiving feast.

So many people tell you that they really like the dressing just as well as they do the meat—and how economically one can satisfy their likings by supplying a sufficiency of delectable dressing. Chestnut, oyster or sausage dressing seem to be the favorites.

I prefer the sausage dressing for chicken or fowl. But many folks cant their vote unreservedly for the oyster dressing—especially if made by this recipe: 1½ cups stale bread crumbs; 1½ cups cracker crumbs; ½ cup melted butter; 1 pint oysters; ¼ cup oyster liquid; 2½ tsps. salt; ½ tsp. pepper; 1 tsp. mace; ½ tsp. baking powder; 1 tsp. poultry dressing.

Mix the bread and cracker crumbs and then add the melted butter, oysters, baking powder and seasonings. Stuff the bird loosely. The baking powder insures a light, fluffy stuffing.

TEN cents a package at your grocer's. The famous old-fashioned poultry seasoning with the spicy flavorful taste.

Keeping the Foods

TASTES change from one generation to another and so do customs. We do not keep house as our grandmothers did. We've learned a lot of things that people didn't know a little while ago.

Because we've learned that we need to be sure that food contains nothing that may harm health, we are coming more and more to realize that refrigeration of our foods is necessary twelve months of the year.

It is only by the use of refrigeration that perishable foods may be preserved and at the same time retain their original freshness and flavor. The freshness of foods depend more upon the environment in which they are kept than upon the length of keeping time. It has been demonstrated by laboratory experts that bacteria, which are the cause of food decomposition, are markedly retarded in their growth by temperatures below 45 degrees F. This means that foods favorable for the growth of bacteria, as milk, meat, etc., undergo very slight decomposition when you store them in a temperature below 50 degrees F., but above that temperature they spoil very rapidly.

About this time every year housewives think that it won't be long until they can do without refrigeration. They will use a cold pantry, a window box or a refrigerator with little or no ice in it or even stop their electric refrigerating unit. This is harmful.

The food may be protected against dust, but not against spoilage from changing temperature. There are very few days during the cold season when the temperature does not rise above 50 degrees F. This is not cold enough all the time, nor is there the proper circulation of continuous cold air over the foods. Circulation of cold air is what refrigerates and gives food preservation.

Cut down on other expenses if you must, but don't try to economize on refrigeration—even during the cold months—good refrigeration makes healthier and happier families.

EVERY JEWISH WOMAN TO AID $500,000 FUND

"Every Jewish woman a subscriber in her own name!"

With this their slogan, the women's committee, headed by Mrs Carl Dreyfus, will launch their part of the $500,000 campaign for the Combined Jewish Charities of Boston, at a luncheon today at the Exchange Club.

The women's branch will make a house-to-house canvass to enroll every Jewish woman on the F. L. Allen subscription list with a contribution.

"We must make the Jewish women of the city feel the obligation," Mrs. Dreyfus said, "that she must give, even though her husband, brother or sweetheart gives. Women are appealed to emotionally, but the women's committee of the Federated will make them realize their sense of duty besides."

With more than $225,000 subscribed within an hour after the opening of the drive at the annual community dinner, today's contributions are expected to go close to the $300,000 mark. More than 450 persons were present at the dinner in the Copley-Plaza. A large percentage of those attending were members of the younger set.

A large number of subscriptions were made by women, after an appeal made by Mrs. Dreyfus.

Jacob J. Kaplan, chairman of the General District Service, spoke of the ten years' work of the "greater Federation" and the excellent work that was being accomplished.

Louis C. Kirstein, ex-president of the Federated, widely known Boston philanthropist, paid a tribute to the young people and to the officials of the Federated.

Rabbi Harry Levi said: "There have always been poor people, and also those who took care of them."

A. C. Ratshesky, who is one of the largest givers to the Federated and its leader for a number of years, said, that the Federated cannot carry on unless the community backs it up, that it cannot increase its scope of work in any way unless the people provide the funds.

Robert J. Koshland, chairman of the campaign committee, told of the splendid cooperation this committee was receiving, he announced Mr. Ratshesky's subscription, which was raised to $15,000 when told that Mrs. A. C. Ratshesky had subscribed toward the women's campaign $1,000 additional.

Cut Divorces to One Cause, Presbyterian Plan

Philadelphia, Nov. 14 (A.P.)—Restriction of church sanction of divorce to a single statutory charge by eliminating desertion is recommended for the law of the Presbyterian Church in a document being sent to the 16,000 ministers in the United States from the headquarters here of the Presbyterian General Assembly.

The document was prepared by Dr. Clarence E. Macartney, of Pittsburgh, former moderator of the general secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education. Its distribution among the churches was authorized by the General Assembly and Dr. William C. Covert, general secretary of the Presbyterian Board, at San Francisco last May and final action on the report is to be taken at the next General Assembly in Tulsa, Okla., in May, 1928. Dr. Macartney said in his report:

"Our conclusion is that the new testament, as revealing the mind of Christ, recognizes but one cause as grounds for divorce—adultery. When we are beyond that ground and sanction divorce and remarriage on other grounds is separated company with Christ."

Dr. Covert presented a statistical study of marriage and divorce. He said that divorces had increased more than 50 per cent. since 1870 and that the divorce rate in the United States was the highest of any nation, "with the possible exception of Japan."

GRETA GARBO IN SCREEN DRAMA OF SOUTH SEAS

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS.

Los Angeles, Nov. 14—Graceful, slow-moving Greta Garbo will try her charms in "Heat," a colorful drama of the South Seas, written by John Colton.

Greta is in great luck, for not only does she draw the screen play written by the man who authored "Rain" and "The Shanghai Gesture," but she gets Clarence Brown for her director as well.

Now you know, without my telling you, when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer combines the alluring Greta and Clarence Brown, one of their prize directors, it means a big picture. Mr. Brown directed Miss Garbo in "Flesh and the Devil," and he made such a sensation that he was at once handed "The Trail of '98," M-G-M's prize package for 1927. He has been working on that these many days and is just now finishing it.

At the time John Colton wrote "Heat" he was supposed to have had Lillian Gish in mind, but Miss Gish is no longer with M-G-M. So many things happen in the movies. And, anyway, now he is ecstatic (excellent words over having the lazy charm of the Swedish screen star in his picture, which he has been working on, to my knowledge, for at least a year.

I had supposed no new productions were being started at Warren Brothers, with all this talk of the studio closing. Yet, I learned on Saturday "Domestic Troubles," with Louise Fazenda and Clyde Cooke, was being negotiated by Ray Enright, and three others are scheduled before the doors are shut.

Most of its thought Louise Fazenda had stolen a march on her friends and secretly married Hal Wallis, but Hal says some luck, it isn't true. Louise hasn't had a day off since they planned to marry. Last Sunday all plans were nadly, when a hurry call came for her to report at the studio. Next week, if all goes well, they will tie themselves in the matrimonial and have the knot tied.

A telegram received from Marion Davies says she is trying to get a little rest. I should think that would be difficult for her in New York, where she has so many friends and where the theatres are offering so many tempting plays this season. She worked so hard to finish "The Patsy" so that she could have this holiday, that she finished New York tired out.

While in the East she will look at costumes for "Her Cardboard Lover," which she will film next. She doesn't say whether she is returning before Christmas or not—but we hope to see her during the holidays. And that goes for the legion of friends who have asked every day whether she would be here for Christmas.

ACID Intoxication

Are You Willing To Be A Victim?

Contrary to what most people think, the excess acids which fill the blood and which the kidneys strive to filter out must be neutralized and the condition corrected by means of other acids such as that of grapes and lemon juice. It is from these combined with Uricia, that JAD SALTS are made. For years, thousands have used this simple, harmless, natural method for "Acid Intoxication" to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, relieve bladder irritation and aid in preventing more serious disorders.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding or if you notice signs of rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness and sleeplessness, get about four ounces of JAD SALTS from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and note the blessed relief.

JAD SALTS is inexpensive and cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent drink-water drink, which everyone can take to relieve and help keep the kidneys clean and active. Ask your druggist for JAD SALTS—a well-known remedy for serious kidney complaints.

Harvard and Yale Always Hard Game Real Grid Classic

Yale Overconfidence May Help Crimson Blue Great, But—

—By NICK FLATLEY—

RECORDS MEAN NOTHING IN H.-Y. GRID WARS

YALE, one of the greatest and gamest teams that ever has come up from New Haven, should beat Harvard at the Stadium Saturday, should beat the Crimson quite badly, if what has happened already in the campaign could mean a thing. But nothing of what has gone before ever figures in these Harvard and Yale wars.

Harvard generally manages to find a new spirit for scrap with the only rival that is supposed to count. The young men who go to Harvard get plenty of the traditional anti-Yale idea before they enter. They collect more as they pass on from the freshman class

Nick Flatley

For the Harvard-Yale sport rivalry is the reslest of all our college traditions. Very poor Harvard teams have made glorious stands against great Yale outfits. Mediocre Eli elevens have found some mysterious spirit at odd times and played as well as fine Harvard trrays right down to the last second.

Yale has been a topheavy favorite for the past three years, but the Bulldog never had any walkover. The result of last year's game was settled by a decision of Referee Quigley that gave the Crimson all the worst of it. The year previous Yale was held to a scoreless tie. And the row prior to that was a desperate struggle, although Yale did win.

This 1927 Blue team is a great aggregation—big, fast, smart and wonderfully game. It smattered two remarkable teams, Dartmouth and Princeton, by sheer power. It should wreck Harvard for a bit of week-end exercise, but some very keen experts find plenty of reason to predict that the Crimson will give the ancient foe a real skirmish.

Yale, on its record, must be considered the greatest big college team in what is called the eastern section of the football world. A dozen might be named that class higher than the aggregation Arnold Horween has built over at Cambridge.

Down in New Haven Saturday, after the great Blue triumph, the enthusiastic students were offering as high as 3 to 1 that Yale would win its climactic game. That was victory frenzy, not common sense. Yale, at least the football part of it, looks for a tough game. Harvard has come along in the past few weeks sufficiently well to justify some New Haven trepidation.

For Yale has an unhappy habit of going cuckoo when it tries to play football in the Stadium.

OUR CYNICAL FRIENDS CLAIM THAT BROWN HAS BEEN HAVING NOTHING BUT DUMMY SCRIMMAGES ALL YEAR.

Notre Dame has discovered that the Rockne road does not always lead to the heights.

OVER CONFIDENCE CAN WRECK CHAMPION TEAM

HARVARD has one distinct advantage of Saturday—it is over confidence. The Bulldogs have earned the right to think well of themselves. They mopped up Cornell decisively Saturday in the most impressive of all ways, the wild rush from behind in the last few minutes.

The thrill of that, in a big game, often sells a team the notion that it is unbeatable. Yale is on that believes that, can run into many a startling snag. Football depends primarily on spirit, and the desire to win. When super-confidence is present, the spirit naturally sags and the urge for victory is replaced with a complacence that oft foreshadows a shock.

No comparison of the two teams can discover any real hope for Harvard. But then not one in a thousand dreamed the Army could take Notre Dame.

ONE MAN LOOSE CAN CAUSE CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE

FAILURE TO TAKE ONE MAN OUT COST

Harvard yardage in the Brown game as this picture proves. It shows Art French taking a lateral pass from Dave Guarnaccia. Note that Guarnaccia is being tackled by Farber of Brown. It was Farber's tackle that hurried the pass. Consodine of Brown was not taken out by a Harvard man. He is coming up from behind to nail French. This picture would indicate that the fast stepping French has a comfortable lead over Consodine, but the fact is French did not get a firm grasp of the ball and it wabbled about a bit in the air before he finally clutched it. This delay was all Consodine needed to come up and tackle the Harvard back for only a three-yard gain.

Boston will have opportunity tomorrow night at the Arena to pass judgement on its own Bruins who will be greeted by a capacity house when they make their first appearance on Boston ice since their world series experiences a year ago. YALE ON WAY TO CROWN

Fighting Elis Can Grab Title In East by Defeating Harvard Here Saturday

By BILL GRIMES.

Due to its clean cut victories over West Point, Dartmouth and Princeton, an otherwise unaccomplished feat, Yale needs but a win over Harvard to be the undisputed champions of the East.

The setback tendered the Blue by Georgia early in the season is the lone black mark, but because of the calibre of football displayed by the Yale during the past month there is no team in the East and few in the country capable of standing off Ted Lyon's boys.

Although Yale attaches great importance to its win over Princeton the outstanding feat of the season was that 10 to 7 victory over the Army. The West Point game showed Yale to be well supplied with power, most of which was generated by the line.

No effective did the Yale line perform that it was a comparatively easy matter for almost any No. 2 back to feature for the Blue. Bruce Caldwell is a natural hip-jaws back and running and passing behind the Yale line, he ranked with the best in the country.

Johnnie Garvey followed Caldwell and showed more brilliancy than did the now ineligible boy, against Dartmouth and against Princeton Phil Hammerslay covered himself with glory.

COMPLETE 23 PASSES.

Dartmouth wound up its season with a wonderful exhibition against Cornell. The forward passing game offered by Dartmouth last Saturday would be difficult to surpass. Of the 28 passes attempted the Green completed 23. Dartmouth had a wonderful season, winning every game with the exception of that affair in the Yale Bowl.

"The Dartmouth line is the surest aggregation that ever stepped on a gridiron," declared Joe Hurley, Dartmouth coach. "The line which represented Dartmouth this season is not as heavy and no heavier than the average prep school lineman. Passing by them the Dartmouth backs delivered exactly what I wished them to do and its knowledge of the game."

"I have been very much pleased with the playing of George Cole this season," continued Coach Hawley. "He has blocked at least one punt in almost every game. On the offense, Cole has been a power and a wonderful assistance to our running attack. I consider George Cole as great an end as I have ever had the good fortune to see in action. He is most deserving of All America honors."

TUFTS' FINE RECORD.

Tufts College ran its season cozy three victories to seven by swamping Mal Morrill's Bowdoin team. Coach Sampson has given the Medford Hillside institution its best football team.

Tufts is one of the very few teams that has gone through this season without suffering a defeat or even being tied.

The Brown and Blue should experience little trouble with Mass Aggies next Saturday unless they are overtaken by that greatest of all ruiners to football teams, overconfidence. Coach Sampson will have his hands full this week keeping the Tufts team on the ground and sending them in against the Aggies in the proper frame of mind.

Although the Yale victory over Princeton was featured throughout the country the defeat of Notre Dame by West Point ran it a close second. Playing the schedule they do it is not surprising that Notre Dame slumps at times and is forced to take a licking.

FOUR FLUSH WINS.

Refering to the Notre Dame-West Point game over the radio last night, Coach Knute Rockne jokingly stated that a year ago, his scouts brought back the report that every time that Harry Wilson's signal was called, the former Penn State star, flushed up nothing. The Notre Dame team watched Wilson, and, due to the tip, was able to stop him.

After the game "Rock" told Coach Jones how the "Fighting Irish" stopped Wilson. "Last Saturday all of the West Point backs flushed up on every signal and, therefore, Notre Dame was unable to guess which man was going to carry the ball.

"It was the first time that a "four flush" ever won a football game," concluded Rockne.

The upset in the Northern Conference was the defeat of Dick Hanley's Northwestern eleven by Indiana. Northwestern was weakened by the loss of some of its best men, but battled gamely, only to go down to an 18 to 13 defeat.

"CAV" SAYS LUCK WILL WIN EAGLE-PURPLE TILT

Major Frank Cavanaugh has confessed that he cannot make either Boston College or Holy Cross the favorite for their objective game a week from Saturday at Braves Field. The Fordham coach has observed both teams in action from close quarters and it is his opinion that the luckier of the two teams on that afternoon will emerge victorious.

GAME BUT FUTILE ATTEMPT

HAND IT TO NOTRE DAME FOR TRYING

But in this picture Sprague of the Army has just sent away a try for the point after touchdown. It missed. Note in this picture Cannon of Notre Dame leaping in the air to block the try. This Cannon also missed fire.

Consensus Holds .625 Score Average

Consensus is still batting for the respectable average of .625, five of the eight big college games last Saturday resulting as the Boston Evening American sport staff predicted.

The scribes' percentage is the same as for the previous Saturday, but their performance was better in many respects than their first venture into the forecasting field.

Consensus was wrong on three games, but only one, the Army-Notre Dame clash, can be termed a crushing defeat for the dope.

Yale and Princeton were picked to tie. Four writers liked the Bulldog and four others favored the Tigers. The consensus was Hull.

The game proved the two teams to be as evenly matched as the staff predicted. Yale, the winner, was held until the first five minutes of play, and but for a fumble just before the final whistle would have triumphed by only a point. Consensus was wrong but nobody can say that the boys were not out on this one.

Harvard was another team to upset the dope, but in the same toss the players were better served than cold figures indicate. Four favored Brown, three liked Harvard, and one predicted a tie. Consensus gave Brown a 9 to 8 win. The Crimson exhibited more strength than the majority looked for, but any team that is picked to lose by only one point always has an excellent chance to win.

ONLY ONE PICKED ARMY.

Notre Dame was the team that tossed the real monkey-wrench into the works, and for the second successive week. The Irish were an unanimous choice to beat Minnesota, and the best they could do was tie. Seven of the eight prognosticators favored the Rockne charges to beat the Army, and the Cadets won with ease.

Cold weather was the alibi for the showing of the South Bend aggregation against Minnesota, but no such excuse can be offered for the defeat by the Army. The Cadets outplayed their opponents in every department of the game and deserved to win.

The only satisfaction that the staff can get out of this game is that one of its members predicted a victory for the Cadets.

The Notre Dame defeat spoiled a perfect slate for Jack Conway and George Grimm. These two experts were correct in their predictions of every other game.

As long as our dauntless scribes keep alone water, they promise to continue their predictions. So watch for the forecasts on next Saturday's big games which will be printed in the Evening Record and of the Boston Evening American.

SCANLON SAYS DALEY IS NOT TO QUIT

The story that Leo Daley, head football coach at Boston College, is to be succeeded at the end of the present season by Harry Stuldreher, former Notre Dame star, is absolutely without foundation.

Thomas Scanlon, chairman of the executive athletic board in a statement to the Boston Evening American, to-day declared:

"There is absolutely no ground for the report that Leo Daley is to be succeeded by Harry Stuldreher or any one else.

"Boston College intends to try out the policy of coaching, and I say Leo Daley knows next two years, the job at the Heights as long as he wants it.

"The graduate athletic board is behind Daley to a man. I cannot understand how the story about Stuldreher originated."

Harry Stuldreher is a five-year contract man at Villanova.

Leo Daley Denies He Will Quit B. C.

"I do not know how such a story started," said Leo Daley when asked today if he intended to quit B. C.

"I know the job is mine for next year and the year after if I want it.

"Stuldreher is not likely to come to Boston College, as he has a five-year contract with Villanova, where incidentally, he is making more money than he could at the Heights."

newspaper will undergo a thorough scrutinization this week.

Horween will probably pick his eleven by Tuesday and will drill his team on the new plays all week. With Crosby, Bell and Donahoe again available, there are bound to be some changes in the lineup that started against Brown.

A pretty good guess at [illegible] and starting lineup would be Strone and Douglas, ends; Pratt and Barrett, tackles; Turner and Simonds, guards, Bell, center; Wilbrown, Crosby, Potter and Pennacia as backs.

There are many fundamentals which also must be considered this week. Harvard's passing game has been close to the mark in the last two weeks. WOODSIES BACK IN FINE FORM

By BILL MCALEER

The Woodsies came through with another fine victory Saturday over Providence, and it was well earned, the Blue and Gold flashing their best form of the season to down the Clamdiggers.

The return of Johnny Ballantyne and Jock McArthur after a long absence completely rejuvenated the play of the Blue and Gold and an improvement was displayed all around.

Bobby Blair once more demonstrated that when he gets to bat placed to him there is none better at accepting the opportunity to hurl the sphere in the net. The center's two goals were duly taken and Garland [illegible] Providence's lone goal had nary a chance to prevent them. Barney Battles was again to the fore.

Sharkey-Heeney Bout Is Postponed

Jack Sharkey has an incomplete fracture of a small bone in his left hand and the Hub boxer's scheduled bout with Tom Heeney of Australia in Madison Square Garden, Friday night, has been indefinitely postponed.

According to Dr. Martin H. Spellman, who made an X-ray of Sharkey's hand today, the Brighton heavyweight will not be able to box for at least a month and the bout with Heeney cannot take place until early next year.

MR. BOSTON

By Jack Conway

Mr. Arnold Horween,
Harvard Athletic Association,
Cambridge, Mass.,
Dear Arnold:

I wasn't quite sure as to how you stood on this question of scouting future opponents, and so I decided to drop down to New Haven to get the real low down on the Yale football team. I thought that maybe if I upped you off on the Yale plays that you would be a little bit practical and slip me a couple of tickets for the Harvard-Yale game. You notice I use the word tickets and not Annie Oakleys.

I am filled with so much college spirit (not the kind the boy friends consume under the stands between halves) that I wouldn't think of accepting a pair of dicats unless I paid the regulation price for them. Like Tex Rickard and Gene Tunney, I insist on doing my bit for somebody's dear old Alma Mater.

Getting down to business, Arnold, Jack Conway bought me a Pullman seat in the special that rolled down to New Haven Saturday morning. On the way down Jack told me he had picked Yale to win by the score of 14 to 7, but that didn't mean a thing to me, as I know Jack [illegible] about football as some of those brats you have [illegible] your squad for the lack of better material.

[illegible]son, 14 to 6, doesn't change my opinion of the boys a [illegible] tactics. I venture the opinion that Rocky Stone [illegible] Coe tipped him on the Bludog and that no word for it [illegible] Arnold I enjoyed the ride to New Haven. There were a lot of [illegible] stratagems on the train and they wised me up about everything [illegible] happen in the Yale-Princeton game. I once thought the [illegible] all dirt and the boxing duffdi were in a class by themselves, but [illegible] was the best dog act since a broken down flivver beat the football [illegible] gone upstairs than any of the sport followers.

THE boys that run the railroad train must have been going home as [illegible] New Haven on schedule. I was hanging on to a street car [illegible] how it got to the Yale Bowl.

[illegible] up to the press box on top of the Bowl where Ned [illegible] Ranger Mr. Wood and the other sport writers tell their [illegible] happened while they exchange funny stories among themselves.

[illegible] all here to New Haven if somebody [illegible] something of that nature. I always supposed that newspapers [illegible] purpose that books were created. I would [illegible] Paul Armbruster kid of an animal.

JUST when the game was about to start, Bruce Caldwell took a seat on the bench reserved for the Yale coaches. I must confess that I [illegible] the game.

He sat [illegible] dressed in civilian clothes, his [illegible] his [illegible] but more than [illegible] made his [illegible] down in the first period [illegible] jumped to his feet, threw his hands into the air, and as suddenly sat down again. When Yale counted with its second touchdown, Caldwell tossed [illegible] to the winds. He cheered out, forgot his own sorrow, hopped to his feet and did a war dance.

I noticed that Yale has one of those fighting teams. They have birds in the backfield who parade through the holes made by a great ranging line. And they toss and receive forward passes much like the old Tinker to Evers to Chance outfit used to handle a baseball.

The wise boys on the way back in the train all tipped me that Yale would beat Harvard next Saturday anywhere from 21 to 100 to 0. Some of the same wise boys told me on the way down that Yale didn't have a chance of beating Princeton with Caldwell out of the game. Figure that one out for yourself.

You can discount all of my dope 100 per cent. and then you will have its real value.

Meanwhile don't forget the two ducats. You might pass them to one of your halfbacks and give him a time test from the Stadium to Winthrop square.

Yours for success,
MR. BOSTON.

Otherwise Tunney will serve notice that Rickard's contract must be fulfilled early enough to permit a [illegible] fight in Chicago late [illegible] Summer.

Navy Players Dodge Welcome Party

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 14.—The Naval Academy football players, returning to Annapolis from Ann Arbor where they lost to Michigan 9 to 0 today, dodged the welcome which the midshipmen had prepared for them, explaining that they did not want a demonstration until they had won a big game. The remaining big game is with the Army on the 26th.

The midshipmen had assembled at No. 2 gate, through which cars carrying the football squad were scheduled to enter. Instructions, however, were given to the drivers to enter by a lower gate.

The LOVELORN

by Beatrice Fairfax

A Great Love Serial About Boston Girls by an Expert on Affairs of the Heart

(CHAPTER 17.

On the same afternoon that Ann desperately strayed past the office where Bill worked, had found him at last, with the marks of dissipation fresh in his face, Georgie was having her own adventures.

That afternoon she had been called to the phone in the insurance office where she worked. Mr. Grantham had called her a little crossly as if to imply he was not altogether pleased with those long and apparently personal calls which took up so much of the time he was paying for.

But Georgie was not interested in Mr. Grantham's feelings. Didn't half the men who came into the office saunter over to speak to her? Wasn't she, in fact, a real asset? She knew her power to attract men by now, and she realized its native pull.

The man who was on the other end of the wire was, as soon as he'd heard Brooks, like Georgie's cousin, take on the more easily and smoothly for many months in hunting, insinuating suggestive things before any actual entry.

But today he was rather brief. "See her, youngster," he said with his half-mocking drawl. "You've promised me a dozen times to come over to my studio. I'm tired of simply dancing over your head with my eyes. Come on out this very time, like a good girl."

"I'll have to go home," Georgie said uneasily. "Ann—my sister—is expecting me."

"That's too bad. You see, I'd arranged a little tea. Some people are coming whom I thought you'd like to meet."

"Oh, I'll offend you."

"Oh, but you won't."

"I was going to say that with her old fashioned ideas, she might ruin one of the finest spirits I've ever met."

His ears found hers in a level look. She resented the slur against Ann, but even more than that, she was pleased by his compliment in spite of its vagueness. One of the best things about Ernest Brooks was the interesting quality of his compliments. You never knew what to come in with to—in a cocktail shaker.

MEDBURY SAYS---

BY JOHN F. MEDBURY

ACCORDING to facial experts, women aren't the only ones who spend their time in beauty parlors. Thousands of old men are trying to keep that schoolboy complexion.

ONE guy has his chin sprayed with camphor every morning to chase the moths out of his whiskers.

HE had to have his face lifted last week to keep from stepping on his beard.

HE tries to deceive the neighbors by putting hair tonic on his toupee.

HE eats three packages of cough drops a day in hopes that he'll grow to resemble the Smith Brothers.

WHILE he's not at all effeminate, he'd even be glad if he could get to look like the Seven Sutherland Sisters.

HE has hair on the brain, but none on his head.

HE'D have to use a hatchet to part his scalp in the middle.

THE only good picture he ever had taken of himself were made with an X-ray.

HE sent them to Washington and they're now hanging in the Department of the Interior.

THE beauty parlors haven't done him any good. He still has so many wrinkles that his face looks like a drain board.

THE children used his cheeks to practice their accordion lessons.

THE flies never light on his forehead. They always walk on his nose to avoid the detours.

BEAUTY naps never helped him.

He couldn't be handsome if he had sleeping sickness.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

By HELEN ROWLAND

ALL these lightning marriages and hair-trigger divorces out in Hollywood and everywhere else, are beginning to make my head swim!

Guessing "Who's Whose in Matrimony" is becoming the great national game. It exhausts all your ingenuity and imagination just to get a crowd together for a party.

You plan a cozy little gathering of congenial married couples a week ahead and by the time it is to come off, you have to shuffle all the place cards because half the husbands and wives are separated and engaged to somebody else.

An actress files a suit for divorce, and before the slow old courts can get around to the case, she has broken her engagement to the "other man" and is trotting around with Hubby again and talking of remarrying him.

That's what gets us all mixed up—this fad for RE-MARRYING your last season's husband or your last week's wife!

Apparently there is nothing like separating two people for a little while to hold them together for life.

Take away the microscope of domestic propinquity and the powerful and cruel lens of breakfast-table proximity and behold, they can't see the flaws in each other any more! All they can see is the old romantic halo that dazzled them in the first place. All they needed was a little perspective on each other!

It must be WONDERFUL! It must be a sweet and satisfying sensation to re-marry your ex-husband! All the thrills of a honeymoon—and none of the shocks, surprises and disappointments, at the discovery that you have married a human being instead of an angel!

You know just what to feed him in order to keep him in a good humor, just where he flings his shoes and his cigarette stumps. Just how to avoid getting on his nerves. Just how many times you will have to call him before he will get up mornings. Just how much or how little it means when he glances at another woman, just how long he will keep you waiting and just how to dodge an argument or forestall a scrap.

You have his sins and his virtues all catalogued and filed. And in spite of all, you still LOVE him!

Oh yes, re-marrying your husband must be something like the sensation of getting back to America after six months abroad, and finding all the dear familiar things like ice-cream, Sherman avalon cooking chairs and chewing-gum slot machines still there.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' amazing Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's most famous enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling — sick headache — torpid liver — constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Relief From Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent. of all sickness is due to stomach disorders, fermenting food, poisons and constipation. Don't be ill! Don't be sick! Don't you are sure to get sick unless you relish your food, digest it properly, and keep your bowels regular.

Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles of every kind, even those of many years' standing. Here's what Mr. Wilson H. Simmons of 741 Pleasant St., Worcester, Mass., says: "I was in a terrible condition. After eating a meal I would suffer agonizing pains. I lost the right use of food, and my nerves were in a terrible state. I was so weak I could hardly walk. If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, it's a sign you need Tanlac. It is good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks—nature's own remedies. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

FRISBY WILL HELP DESTITUTE JURORS

"Shall we let these kiddies starve?" asks Frisby.

By MR. FRISBY
Congressman-at-Large

WASHINGTON—Today I want to call for contributions to help penniless jurors.

It has come to my attention that many families are plunged into poverty merely because mother or father is patriotically serving on some jury.

These people neglect their businesses in order to help promote justice. Their families are forced to rely upon charity.

A penny here, a penny there will save many a juror who otherwise must subsist on a crust.

All I ask is that the public provide me with sufficient funds so I can approach jurors and offer them financial assistance.

I shall proceed to offer my services, in the interest of science, wherever most needed.

KEEP STOMACH YOUNG!

Eat What You Want

When the food you get goes into your acid-soaked stomach, it sours and can't digest, spikes foul gas and sour bile. The blood takes these poisonous acids and carries them through the body, naturally it makes you miserable and despondent, because your system is not nourished—you lose weight.

Pape's Diapepsin dissolves the acids and sweetens the stomach. It digests the food, no more sour belching taken up by the blood. Your appetite is like a youngster's again, and gradually you get back your health, flesh and energy.

Chew a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin after meals. It tastes good, and relieves the misery of indigestion in five minutes. It will keep your stomach young and vigorous so you can eat anything you want without being afraid of the consequences.

DEBT UP WITH INDUSTRIAL GROWTH

By FRANK H. MELOON, Financial Editor.

Widespread publicity has been given the report that North Carolina, one of the big textile States, has had the largest proportionate increase during the year in State debt of any State in the Union. This seems to need a bit of explanation. James A. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, an outstanding authority on industrial matters, supplied me at the Copley-Plaza with the information that the increase has been due to the remarkable industrial expansion of the State.

This, indeed, is said to have been the largest achieved by any State this year. Most of the new indebtedness appears to come under the "expenditures for development" classification. Of course New England also has been largely instrumental in bringing about development in North Carolina, as it has in the other Southern textile States.

* * *

Col. Leonard Ayres, Cleveland banker-statistician, frequent speaker in Boston, is always interesting when he offers a general forecast. If you think business and financial conditions, in the main, cannot be foretold by an intelligent business person, clip Col. Ayres' 12 prophecies for 1928 and see how many of them come true. The follow:

Col. Ayres.

(1) That at the start of the year interest rates will be lower than during the corresponding period of 1927, but that at the end of the year rates will be higher.

(2) The trend of bond prices will be upwards.

(3) As to stock prices, industrial stocks will reach higher prices some time in 1928 than any yet attained.

(4) Building volume will be greater than 1927.

(5) Building costs will advance in the second half of the year.

(6) Employment will improve as the year advances.

(7) Wages will be firm, with perhaps slight advances.

(8) The cost of living will show little change.

(9) Wholesale prices will advance moderately.

10) Iron and steel output will be greater than during 1927.

(11) Automobile output will set a new high record to date. This is assuming Ford will come into volume production soon.

(12) Industrial profits will be greater than in 1927.

Summarizing 1928 prospects, Col. Ayres said: "Next year business will reverse the trend of 1927 by starting lower and ending higher. Conditions will improve in the Spring, hesitate in the Summer and improve strongly in the Autumn."

Sentiment More Cheerful; Developments Are Mixed

By B. C. FORBES

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—Business sentiment is more cheerful. And, of course, bullishness still reigns among stock market speculators; they consistently ignore sobering happenings and minimize declines of 10 to 30 points in their favorite stocks.

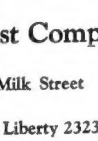
Among the week's favorable developments which strengthened optimism were these:

Very rosy forecast of 1928 automobile business by President Sloan, of General Motors, following the declaration of $2,500,000 in cash dividends for the quarter, a new world record.

Announcement of a modest advance in steel prices, a substantial gain in unfilled steel orders and expressed confidence that bookings will increase.



B. C. Forbes.

An official corn estimate 126,000,000 bushels higher, raising what originally was pictured as a tragically poor crop to above last year's satisfactory yield.

The enormous over-subscription of $400,000,000 Treasury securities offered at 3¼ per cent. and a rise in Government bond quotations to new peaks.

Less pessimistic views from certain oil leader regarding the outlook for bringing over-production within bounds.

A material increase in bank clearings.

Strength in copper prices.

Colder weather brought about some improvement in retail trade in many areas.

The week's commodity price change showed more advances than declines.

Sterling advanced to $4.87, the highest in 3 years.

Reparation Commissioner Gilbert succeeded in inducing Germany to pay heed to curbing proposed borrowing and exports of securities might interfere with the prompt fulfilling of her war obligations.

Hopes are running high that Christmas trade will prove unusually satisfactory.

There were, of course, offsetting developments, but they received less notice. Brokers' loans rose to another new peak, and, perhaps more important, the reserve ratio held by the Federal Reserve Banks went below the low percentage of a year ago. The reported falling off in railway traffic was the heaviest, compared with 1926, of any week this year—8 per cent. October building permits were almost $100,000,000 under equal to only 68 per cent. of production, and unfilled orders fell 13½ per cent. during the month. Automobile sales are running distinctly below a year ago, and the best authorities figure that the total 1927 output will not exceed 3,600,000 vehicles, compared with 4,423,000 last year.

Soon the country will be flooded with 1928 forecasts. All indications are that they will be quite as optimistic as the 1926 forecasts, which forecasts have not been wholly fulfilled. It can no longer be gainsaid that the second half of the current year has disappointed many. Earnings statements for the first nine months are far from uniformly favorable, and although dividend increases have been numerous there have lately come quite a number of reductions.

Nevertheless, it is entirely possible that the optimism which will come from high places will have a stimulating influence. Certain responsible industrialists emphasize very strongly that there has been rigid liquidation of buying in the hope that prices would go lower. Very heavy ordering of steel and other materials by the railroads is predicted. The automobile industry is also looked to for a new fillip to general business.

Meanwhile the bulls fight bravely on in the stock market. They made headway against the bears almost every day last week, and the average quotations finished within eight points of the year's peak, reached on October 3. Incidentally, the advance stands today 100 points above that of the original Armistice Day, nine years ago.

One reflection of how enthusiastic Wall Street feels is the sale of a Stock Exchange seat at $285,000, a figure never before touched.

If general business would only catch fire on the stock market, how few complaints there would be. The truth is, however, that many complaints come from different parts of the country about failure to experience the national prosperity so widely discussed.

that Homer, Dante and Shakespeare knew, each, only one living language and they are the three greatest writers. It's not how many languages you know, but what you have to say in some ONE language.

A learned gentleman says Socialism is back of Mexico's troubles, the same Socialism "that caused both the French and the Russian revolutions."

Of Rousseau, Voltaire and the rest were Socialists they did not know it. The philosophical head of the league for political education could find political education in Taine's history of the "ancient regime."

Real revolutions are caused by facts, not theories, Socialist or otherwise. Misery plus guiding intelligence, cause revolutions.

French peasants, poor that they had to be forbidden by law to eat human bodies, dead of the plague, did not need Socialism to fire them, when they found leadership.

Some of our soldiers are being trained as veterinarians. A five months' course, with 700 hours of study, teaches them the difference between glanders and a big apple.

How nice, if some of those soldiers could also be taught how to diagnose disease in the veterinary surgeons now is like teaching civilians to drive a hansom cab—after the arrival of the taxi

Russia teaches aviation in public schools, and has organized a body of 40,000 young men and girls interested in flying. That should interest "Big Money" and Big Money should order the government to increase the 164 veterinary school to a flying academy.

Will Rogers, rare combination of philosophy and wit, said he rode all day through one Kansas cornfield, and "this country is so busy planting corn you can't get 'em to town to holler for relief."

Some farmers may "holler" when they read of the relief scheme invented by Big Steel Chairman Gary—"farmers" and other companies increase prices $1 a ton. The people will like it and pay it.

If farmers could add twenty-five cents a bushel, off hand, to the price of wheat or corn and make those people pay half of it, they wouldn't need to "holler" for help.

Manolescu, who wanted to make Prince Carol King, in place of the child Michael, is "afraid Rumania is heading toward a Republic."

That could hardly be much worse than the record of government Rumania has had, depending on unsatisfactory accidents of birth.

To pay the Rumanians couldn't govern themselves better than they have governed may be true, but that's much of a compliment to the Rumanians.

NEW FILM EPIC OF BIG CITY ON 5 SCREENS

By LEO GAFFNEY.

"East Side, West Side" is all around the town.

Two theaters down town, the Scollay and the Olympia, are showing this splendid film and, further out, the Fenway, Capitol and Central Square are also offering it, thus giving you five chances for the week to see one of the best pictures this year is likely to turn up.

Movies of New York life are generally a welter of drunken orgies, flamboyant naughtiness and other falsities. Sometimes they descend into the tenements and the result is just as sour.

In "East Side, West Side" none of the old hokum appears. Allan Dwan, a director who has never particularly shone before, has now let go all "holds" and given the Greater Movie Season a prize exhibit.

George O'Brien, Virginia Valli, June Collyer and J. Farrell McDonald magnificently portray the principal roles. Their characters are all plausible, human creatures and they are all a part of the buzzing life as you see it—the life that clusters over Brooklyn Bridge, coveys in the slums or swarms up Broadway.

The story, not at all a conventional one, traces the rise and fall of a lad whose lowly vision is all the world is on an East River barge. How the "River Rat" works up to the prize ring, further up to an engineer and then slides all the way down to the gutter again before he finishes as a soggy bum—is the basis of a photodrama that is a constant delight to behold.

Mr. Dwan has wrought exceedingly well with his Felix Reisenberg story. His development of it is something over which the art critics can cheer. If you are interested in film technique, watch the fade-ins, fade-outs, cut-backs and all the other smart camera tricks. Notice the subtitles, the acting and the action—and then hop for the best for the year to come.

In making the celebrated Mme. Pompadour the heroine of a romance for the great screen American, Paramount did well to choose Dorothy Gish.

Dorothy Gish

Like her sister, the glorious Lillian, Dorothy augments such a woman might possibly be blossoming under cover amid the profitless days of the court of Louis XV, notorious. The real Pompadour was a beautiful siren quite capable of carrying on an artist while ruling the king from behind his throne.

In the "Madame Pompadour" film now being presented at the Keith-Albee Boston screen, the heroine is made to appear "really in love" for the first time and escapes the fate of wicked palace with an artist as handsome as Antonio Moreno. She disguises herself as a seamstress to fool the artist in the first place, for she realizes that in those dangerous days any ordinary citizen would hide from the king's favorite. And the artist is, in fact, inclined to hide when he learns who the fair lady really is, but he hesitates and is lost. He manages to escape with his life when La Pompadour denounces him after the king has secured her of playing around loosely.

It was typical of the court siren to turn on any sweetheart to save her place in court. The treachery of the Louis XV. time is shown in "Pompadour," but not the wholesale immorality. Miss Gish does well in the scenes in which the heroine is made to seem contrite and sincerely romantic.

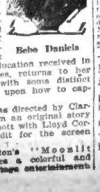
Monroe is at his best as the handsome lover and furious fighter. Several well-known foreign actors are in the picture, which he was made in England under Paramount auspices.

BEBE DANIELS AT 'MET'

For fast moving, concise, interesting and humorous entertainment you'll have to pay tribute to Bebe Daniels, for she's soon now in her new comedy, "She's a Sheik," at the Metropolitan.

Bebe Daniels

The picture starts out with a bang, thanks to the efforts of William Powell, as the heavy, and before long it is picked up to fair star and carried through at a merry pace. The story revolves around the activities of the granddaughter of the Sheik



Jack Purtington's "Moonlit Waters" provides a colorful and tuneful bit of stage entertainment

RUSSIAN FILM AT TWIN HOUSES

Realism in the raw is superbly pictured in "Potemkin," a Russian film now showing at the Modern and Beacon Theatres.

The revolt of a downtrodden people against their masters is the theme of this stirring screen drama. It is not the cause of one person which Potemkin espouses, but the cause of a nation.

The picture holds the audience spellbound from the first flash to the last. The other picture on the twin theatre bill is "Very Confidential," starring Madge Bellamy. In this spirited play the heroine and her heart interest winning the love of a stalwart football hero and she is kept busy inventing plans to keep in his good graces when he starts by posing as a big-game hunter and finishes by doing a stunt worthy of the world's champion automobile racer.

The vaudeville program offers the Volga Boatmen, a double quartet of Russian singers; the Diplomats, night club entertainers, and Dudley Conrad, assisted by Marion Eddy, a popular Broadway team of entertainers.

NATIONAL POLICIES OF THE HEARST NEWSPAPERS

1. An agreement of English-speaking peoples to preserve peace among themselves and promote the peace of the world.
2. A constitutional amendment to provide for the election of United States Senators in numbers proportionate to the population of each State, but no State to have less than two Senators. A reapportionment of Congressional representation immediately after every census, or in case of the failure of Congress so to act, to make the apportionment automatic at the end of the first Congressional session, the proportion of population for each representative in each case to be that of the existing Congress.
3. A separate Department of the Army, of the Navy and of the Air Forces, all united under a Secretary of National Defence.
4. Federal action to the limit of Federal Government powers to abolish illiteracy among the people of the United States, and the creation of a Secretary of Education.
5. Necessary measures to secure the election of Congress in November and its installation on the 1st of January following, and the inauguration of a President on the 1st of January immediately following his election in November.

How Clinton Does It

Explaining the Lowest Tax Rate Reported by Any Industrial Town in Massachusetts

Many of us know Clinton first of all as the Worcester County home of Senator Walsh and the site of the $2,500,000 Wachusett Dam which helps to supply the Metropolitan District with water.

Big enough to be a city—its population is 14,180—Clinton holds fast to the "town meeting" form of government, wherein every fellow has his say.

Noted for its manufactures of printed goods, carpets and wire work, Clinton stands out in the tax survey recently completed by the Associated Industries of Massachusetts as the community with the lowest tax rate of any "sizeable" industrial community in the Commonwealth.

How has this come about? What and who are responsible? How may somewhat similar results be achieved in other towns?

The answer the Boston Evening American presents herewith is from the report made public by the general manager of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, Mr. Orra L. Stone, who writes of the fortunate town on the Nashua with the first-hand knowledge which belongs to one of its most active citizens.

"Every student of taxation knows and has emphasized that it is in the municipal field that the excessive tax burden lies and it is the duty of every taxpayer, large or small, to point out to the municipal authorities that they cannot continue their spending orgies and still have the revenues with which to meet the bills.

"Capital is a shrinking violet and will not make further outlays in brick, mortar and machinery unless it can be assured that the taxes assessed thereon are to be at a rate which will warrant the investment being made in Massachusetts.

"Municipal officials in some towns and cities apparently have not yet learned their lessons and unless they prove more apt pupils in the next few years than they have shown themselves to be in the immediate past they will wake up some fine morning only to find that the source of tax revenue which they have tapped with such uniformity and liberality in days of yore have escaped never to return.

"How can the lesson best be taught is the question that naturally arises."

"The first factor that needs to be emphasized," Mr. Stone says, "is that of fostering and establishing in every town and city a tax consciousness on the part of the citizens which will be reflected by the city and town officers in curbing all expenditures that cannot be regarded as absolutely essential to the welfare of the community.

"All frills should be frowned upon and a careful survey should be made to see if the local revenues cannot be increased by a readjustment of fees of all kinds, thereby bringing about a State-wide and equitable equalization of receipts from these sources, and thus correspondingly reducing the amount to be raised by taxation.

"In the second instance, the valuation policies, which in many towns and cities can well be readjusted, should be studied and altered.

"In the next place, where finance commissions or committees have not been created they should be brought into being at once in order that each municipality may have the combined judgment of representative citizens who are willing to give their time and business experience to their town or city by annually establishing the financial budget upon which the municipality should operate. These men who have made successes in their private business can readily apply to the larger corporation—the municipality—the ripe financial judgment that is necessary for the conduct of a town or city. Many of the cities and towns which have this year effected substantial reductions in their tax rates have been enabled to accomplish this very desirable end because of the fact that the financial operations of these municipalities have been adjusted through the medium of the recommendations of finance commissions or committees.

"A conspicuous example of the value of such a commission or committee is observed in the tax rate of the industrial town of Clinton. Of all the sizeable industrial municipalities in the State, Clinton has the lowest rate reported—$21.50 per $1,000.

"Over a series of years the endorsement of the Finance Committee in that town, made public in the local newspapers at the time the warrants are published for the town meetings, have never been overridden by the voters but invariably have been sustained. The personnel of the Finance Committee consists of representative business men, in whom the citizens have the utmost confidence, and their recommendations are considered final.

"Such a course accounts for the enviable record this particular municipality has earned. A year ago it divided with the town of Plymouth the honors of having the lowest tax rate of any strictly industrial town in the State, and this year, by rigid economy, which has not by any means impaired municipal efficiency, it still further reduced its rate by $2.50 per $1,000.

"OTHER TOWNS CAN DO EQUALLY WELL IF THEY WILL BUT SET THEIR MUNICIPAL HOUSES IN ORDER."

Grafting

Botanical and Otherwise

Grafting experts in California report amazing things in the production of new brands of fruit. Just about everything in that line has been done. Practically the only thing remaining to be done is to graft a kumquat on to a cactus and produce something that nobody can eat at all.

Reports of investigations in Washington and Indiana report great progress in grafting other than botanical, but in the latter line grafting seems to be only in its infancy. It has produced a good many unexpected lemons and more than a few cabbage heads.

Doomed

Family Life Killed Again

John Langdon Davies, English author, arrives in New York with dreadful news. He says women will soon dominate the men, and that family life is doomed and the alimony business is on its last legs.

The author comes freighted with ideas, but one or two of them are slightly moldy. That one about the women soon dominating the men—"soon!" Why, it has been going on for several hundred years.

WHAT OF IT? ASK MANY CITIZENS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THERE has recently been a meeting of the International Congress for Psychic in Paris. There were the most astounding declarations. A Mr. Bird of New York and a Dr. Reitz of Leningrad produced a lot of evidence to rehabilitate the mediums.

Dr. Reitz stated that they all operated in good faith and the audience applauded the sentiments. He said that in some performances the mediums had found articles that had been introduced into safes doubly locked and sealed and others tied knots in a cord attached to a seat.

There were other mediums that wrote upon the typewriter and many were able to move all sorts of objects without help of any material agency.

Mr. Price, of America, told how mediums produced changes of temperature in a room, and Professor Cazzamali, of Milan, claimed that the human brain emits radio waves that had begun to be photographed.

He said, also, that the brain put forth sounds which were audible by radio.

Rappings of ghosts were possible, it was claimed, and messages from another world could be received.

Charles Richet, of France, the president of the Congress, declared that metaphysics is on the verge of becoming an authoritative science, and that there is a sixth sense or psychic power.

Another power produced what he called thumb-prints of spirits, which corresponded to the thumb-prints of the person during his life time.

To all of which the public makes the query, "What of it?"

If a dead person has nothing better to do than go around rapping typewriters, moving tables and making thumb-prints, he is not very busy.

All of this material seems merely to be in the interest of astounding people. It adds nothing to the sum of human learning and is simply a continuation of the oldest craft in the world, which is witchcraft.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

IT may be true that in the world of men one needs to wear a mask the whole day through, to hide the inner self and being when these must be sheltered from the casual view. For there are secret depths of joy and bliss, of love and loathing that no man would share with other eyes; hope's height and hate's abyss, and flowing wells of rapture and despair. But in the welcome hours of release from all restraints unfriendly eyes impose, in tranquil twilights or with dawning's peace, the soul must face the secrets that it knows. The issues of its good or evil ways must all be met, however hard the task; the self that hides through busy, toil-filled day must in the end confront itself unmasked.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

DR. MICHAEL PUPIN is a great scientist. He has spent his years in studying life. He does not see Life as you or I see it, in small, detached fragments existing Now. He sees Life stretching back to its first beginnings. He sees it as an architect sees a great building, from the first blue print through all its different stages.

He has studied queer, small fossils which were the first crude blue prints of great animals that developed later. Tiny, rabbitlike creatures growing into fierce stallions. Frail, lacy ferns becoming trees. Gobs of slime putting on gills, scales, tails and legs. And a higher development than that of the flesh. Love, Pride, Ambition, Honesty, Imagination, Courage springing where once there were only beast fear and lust and greed. Songs being born, and Laughter and Prayer in a brute's darkened, consciousness.

Looking back, Dr. Pupin sees that these things haven't just Happened. All this evidence makes him sure that there is some plan behind it all and some sort of a Planner. He believes that everything has a reason—that everything is Going Somewhere—that nothing is wasted.

You and I can't see that, of course. We see Life in such little segments, without a beginning or end, and everything seems hopelessly muddled. We feel hopeless, terribly discouraged.

"What's the use of living if this is all?" we cry. "What's the use of all this loving and suffering if we're going to end in a few years?"

But Dr. Pupin doesn't believe that we end in a few years. He has never yet seen anything END. He has proof that no matter has ever been destroyed. And if matter is worth perpetuating and after aeon—and if God fusses so endlessly over the evolutions of a pig—surely that most marvelous and complicated of all creations, THE HUMAN SPIRIT, won't be junked after a few score years of service!

"It does not seem reasonable to me," he says, "that a creation which has been going on for billions and billions of years, insofar as we can tell, for the very purpose of producing that wonderful soul, should cause the soul—YOUR SOUL AND MY SOUL—to exist only as long as our physical bodies exist. Although science does not offer mathematical proof of the immortality of the soul, it gives us plenty of food for thought and belief, plenty of grounds for intelligent hope. And it adds to our conviction that our physical life is only a stage in the existence of the soul.

"In my opinion all scientific evidence tends to show—not to prove but to point toward the belief—THAT IT IS VERY UNLIKELY THAT THE SOUL OF MAN IS GOING TO CEASE ITS EXISTENCE WHEN THE BODY PERISHES. The law of continuity and the general scientific view of the universe tend, I think, to strengthen our belief that the human soul goes on existing and developing after death."

Think of that sometimes, partner, when you feel that your life isn't worth while.

BRIGHTER DAY FOR HUDSON BAY

By Garrett P. Serviss,

Noted Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Subjects of Popular Interest

ONE of the most fascinating romances of the first navigators of the great western and southern oceans is the story of the discovery of that remarkable inland sea known as Hudson Bay, which, in the far north, offsets the tropical Gulf of Mexico. There, on the edge of the icy Arctic, Hendrick Hudson, the discoverer of New York Bay and Manhattan Island, and the Hudson River, seeking always a way to Asia around the northern end of America, perished amidst the ice floes in an open boat in which his mutinous crew had turned him adrift.

Hudson's entry with his ship into that great cul de sac, which seemed to him so sure a highway to the Pacific, and his vain search for a western exit from the vast trap into which he had sailed, make an irresistible appeal to the imagination and the sympathy of the reader.

The tragic end of the first white man who ever trod the soil of Manhattan Island, or saw the frowning Palisades, the blue Catskills, and the wood-crowned hills around the site of Albany, is not an event to be forgotten, especially by the inhabitants of the enormous city by whose wharves flows the grand river bearing the Hudson's name.

The river has had a foremost place in the eyes of the busy world almost from the day its discoverer first sailed up its romantic stream, but the great bay in the far north has remained known to but few except geographers and explorers, being associated in the minds of most people only with the frozen and uninhabitable Arctic.

But now a brighter day is promised for it. A Hudson Bay railroad, grain shipping ports on the shores of the bay and a direct line of steamers to Europe, are in contemplation in Canada, and an extension is reported to be examining on the ground the practicability of using Hudson Strait for navigation in all seasons. Hudson Bay lies in about the same latitude as the Baltic Sea, and there are those who dream of the possibility of building up with the aid of agriculture and commerce, a great empire centring about its shores.
